A Clergyman Whose Belief in the Efficacy of Prayer is Considera-bly Enlarged—Guaranty Loan Company.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, February 22.—(Special Dispatch.) When Anna Gould becomes a countess next Thursday she will be crowned by a tlara of brilliants more splendid than that owned by any New York so clety woman. It is to fasten a veil of cld lace, a gift from the Marquise de Castellane, who will arrive in New York tomor bearing costly presents from the Count's family.

A friend of the Gould family said today the tiara had been ordered specially for Miss Anna by George Gould, and Tiffany is the maker. It is to cost a fabulous sum, and will be of gold and platinum, set with emeralds, diamonds and rubies. The gems are set in platinum, the base of the crown only being of gold.

THE ICARIANS. They Mutually Agree to Wind Up Their Affairs.

by Telegraph to The Times CORNING (Iowa.) Feb. 22.—(Special Dispatch.) Members of the Icarian community, three miles east of this city, have agreed that a division of property and dissolution of the society is to the best interests of all concerned, and steps are now being taken to that end.

The interests of the heirs of the deceased members and other legal intricacles have rendered it advisable to appoint a have rendered it advisable to appoint a receiver and put the matter into the hands of the court. This community is socialistic in the extreme. Its founder was E. Cabet, and its inception dates back to a period just previous to the French revolution, when about sixty-nine socialists embarked from Havre, France, for Texas, and Toosted near the Red River. They moved to New Orleans, and then to Nau vacated. Here they prospered until 1856, when Cabet and a faction seconds. The others settled near this place. Twenty years ago the community's diabilities wer $4000, while the assets were $60,000. An other rupture occurred in 1879, when the property was equally divided, and one fac-tion departed for California. The remain-ing members continued in the communistic manner of living. Prays for His Stolen Satchel and Gets It.

By Telegraph to The Times. CHICAGO, Feb. 22.—(Special Dispatch.) Charles R. Hale of Canro, III., tonight a firmer believer than ever before in the efficacy of prayer, as it has been the means of recovering a satchel from a thief and capturing the culprit.

Bishop Hale took part in the celebration of Washington's birthday, and late this afternoon attended a banquet at the audi-torium. This evening he was driven to the Rock Island depot. He brought with him his satchel containing his robes jewels and other emblems of office, valued at $300. In the depot he placed the satched on the floor while puchasing his railway ticket. When he turned to enter the train he found an adroit thee had tolen his satchel and substituted another filled with rubbish. The thief and satchel had disappeared and the bishop was almost overcome by his misfortune. He was not discouraged, however. "I will pray for the recovery of my property," he said to the skeptical policeman, and closing his eyes reverently, the bishop prayed. An answer came quickly. A brakeman An answer came quickly. A brakema who had heard of the robbery, remen bered that a man carrying a big satchel had just left the station on Pacific avenue. He started in pursuit and overhauled the thief at Van Buren and Clark streets. The policeman brought the thief and satchel back to the station where the bishop identified his property. The bishop postponed his departure in order to prosecute the thief tomorrow.

Ex-champion Sullivan Again Paint ing Towns Red.

By Telegraph to The Times.

JACKSONVILLE, (Fla.,) Feb. 22.—(Special Dispatch.) John L. Sullivan has owned this city today, according to his idea. Last night after his performance at the theater he began to drink, and kept it up all night and today. The members of the company became desperate and this morning all struck, as they claim their salaries have been unpaid for the last six weeks. They say that Sullivan and his particular friends stay at high-priced hotels and spend the receipts of the show, while they have to remain at cheap places. GUARANTY LOAN COMPANY. The Fugitive President States What He Would Wish Done.

speciated Press Leased-wire Service.
MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 22.—The Journal

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 22.—The Journal prints today a letter from Louis F. Menage, the fugitive president of the Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, explaining his series of large transactions which ultimately led to the company's failure.

The letter is not dated, and it is explained that it was written to a personal friend in Minneapolis. Menage goes into the history of the company's real estate transactions in Minneapolis, Seattle, Ellensburg, Washington, Noth Galverston, Tex., Great Fails, Helena, Mont, and Chicago at great length, and explains how the most of shem would have been very profitable if the times had continued prosperous. He contends that no one has suffered more from the failure than he has himself. Explaining his flight, he declares that to have stayed meant either death or the insane asylum, excording to the advices of his physician. He was a physical and mental wreck, and unequal to the task of straightening out the affairs of the company.

The nurrous of the letter becomes eviof straightening out the affairs of the company.

The purpose of the letter becomes evident when Mr. Menage declares his belief that if allowed to assist in settling up the affairs of the company he could save very much more for the creditors than any one else, and could in the end pay all the chaims, not only against the company, but against himself. He is anxious to undertake this work on a salary simply sufficient to support his family. To accomplish this, he says that the criminal suits against him should be discontinued for the present. He is confident of his ability to prove his entire innoceance, but believes that the trial of the cases would interfere with the profitable settlement of the company's affairs.

Consequently he eakes that the cases be continued until after this work is done, a period which he estimates would cover five years, and then tried. It is not known what action the law officers will take in the premises, but it is already assured that the creditors of the company will fare better than was supposed when the crash first came.

FROM MAYOR TO FLAGMAN.

ANOTHER INSTANCE OF THE VI CISSITUDES OF LIFE.

Once Chief Magistrate of Oakland Honored and Respected, He Now Waves a Flag to Warn the Vehicles.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

OAKLAND, Feb. 22.—Old and bent and gray, this cicthes patched and threadbare, James E. Blethen, once Mayor of the city of Oakland, now flags the trains of the Southern Pacific at Seventh and Broadway for $40 a mionth. Between train times the old man sits on a bench, leans against the Deiger Block, and either reads the papers or dreams of the days when the papers or dreams of the days wher he was Mayor, and when he could num ber more friends than any other citizen in Oakland. Up to the night in 1882 when as Mayor, he called a special meeting of the City Council and bartered the waterfront way, he was an honored and popula citizen.

He had been in such favor that he defeated Henry Vrooman for Mayor. But now ex-Mayor Blethen sits on the bench, smokes his pipe; reads his paper, and when the socal trains appear he picks up two flags—one red and the other white—walks to the center of the street, and warns the drivers of approaching street ears and vehicles.

warm the drivers of approaching street cars and vehicles.

In 1830 Blethen was a prosperous mill owner. One day he quietly called a meeting of Councimen, and it was agreed to withdraw all suits pending against the Oakland Water-front Company. Popular indignation over this bit of legislation was so great that Blethen's friends refused to speak to him. His business was boycotted, and he became insolvent. He removed to Salt Lake.

A few years later he returned to Oakland, and ran for school director, but was overwhelmingly defeated. Then he drifted about, occasionally working at the car-about, occasionally working at the car-penter trade, but meeting with ill-luck and constant reverses.

Recently, woebegone, broken in health, friendless and without note or anticaron, the succeeded in getting the rialroad company to remember the Mayor who had stood by them when they needed a Mayor badly, and he was given his present postulion as flagman at the railroad crossing at Seventh and Broadway.

POPULIST PARTY.

Going to Establish a National News Bureau.

KANSAS CITY (Mo.,) Feb. 22:dred and fifty members of the National Reform Press Association met here today for the purpose of considering questions look-ing to the advancement of the principles advocated by the Populist party. There is a very turbulent and aggressive spirit man-ifested among several of the delegates. The day, up to 1 o'clock this afternoon was spent in considering the advisability of establishing a national news bureau in Kansas City. At that time no decision had been reached, and the matter was referred to a committee of five for consideration and report. As predicted in these disand report. As predicted in these dispatches there is a row on between the present officials of the People's party and some of the delegates at today's meeting. Dr. S. C. McClellin, editor of the Advocate of Topeka, Kan., has put on war paint and has made threats that unless the People's party managers come around to his way of thinking he proposes tor create a disturbance within the ranks which may have the effect of disrupting the present organization. McClellin charges that there is an effort on to betray the party into the hands of the enemies.

MRS. JOHN MARTIN.

THE CELEBRATED LITIGANT IS AGAIN IN TROUBLE.

She Defies a Judge in Court and May Have to Expiate Her Sins in the County Jail or Pay a Fine.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—It is just barely possible that Mrs. John Martin, who has thrown books at lawyers in court, and otherwise shown her contempt for the law, will have to locate in the County Prison. Justice Kerrigan has fined her $100 for contempt of court, with the alternative of imprisonment. In Decembr last, Mrs. Martin bought $103 worth of merchandise from Nathan, Dohrman & Company, and disregarded frequent requests to liquidate her indebt-edness. The claim was assigned to J. R.

frequent requests to liquidate her indebtedness. The claim was assigned to J. R.
Rauer and suit begun in the justices' court. Judgment was rendered by Justice Cook, but still Mrs. Martin neglected to pay up. Two or three times she was ordered to appear before Justice Kerrigan on an order of examination, but she neglectd to obey.

When she was ordered to appear she sent a little perfumed note, written on pale blue paper, expressing her regret that she was unable to accept the Judge's kind invitation, on account of the fact that her presence was needed at home, where she was acting as general superintendent of a gang of carpenters.

This was more than the Judge could bear, and an order was made fining Mrs.
Martin $100, with the alternative of tworty-four hours' imprisonment.

Mrs. Martin at once packed her things preparatory to moving to jail, when Judge Confey threatened to commit her for contempt, so she may take the same course this time.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—A number of representatives of the American Bimetallic League met here today for conference at the league headquarters. Among those present were Gen. A. J. Warner, president of the league; Representatives Newlands of Nevada and Sibley of Pennsylvania. The greatest secrecy was maintained as to the conference. Gen. Warner, however, said that they had come together to talk over the situation and nothing more. For the last few days, however, a rumor has been in circulation here to the effect that certain silver men were forming a plan which, if carried out, would result in plac-ing a national silver fileket in the field for the next national campaign. It is not be-lieved, however, that the plan has as yet taken any definite shape. Senator Welcott and a number of others active in the cause of silver in Congress-were not present at today's meeting.

CHICAGO, Feb. 22.—The sixth annual convention of the Regular Army and Navy Union of the United States was opened today in the First Methodist Episcopal Church. About 100 members of the organization, representing subordinate unions throughout the United States are in attendance and an interesting convention is promised.

The organization is composed of active and retiring members of the regular army and navy. It is coducted similar to the G.A.R., but admits none of the ex-volunteers who took part in the civil war. The union, it is expected, will eventually become the leading veteran organization of the country, as when the G.A.R. will disappear, as the soldiers of the civil war will die, the Army and Navy Union is designed to exist as long as the United States maintains an army and navy.

The main feature under consideration The main feature under consideration was the fixing of salaries of deputy officials, and Dist.-Atty. Donnel, representing the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles; ex-Judge A. P. Hatch, representing the Sheriff's office, and ex-Judge Austin argued on behalf of their various interests. There seemed to be a lack of data and statistics, however, on which the delegation could base its considerations, and much time waspent in arriving at anything like a satisfactory conclusion. Just as this happy stage was about reached in came Senator Withington of San Diego with his General Fee Bill, and knocked the delegation's deleminations endwise. He showed that terminations endwise. He showed that while a decision of the Supreme Court was that boards of supervisors have no power to fix salaries of deputies and that this task devolves on the Legislature, the scale must be a uniform one, and therefore vari-ous counties cannot send representatives to establish what they would like, but, on the contrary, as provided in his General Fee Bill, all county officers must be paid lump sums out of which they are to pay their respective deputies. This took the wind out of the delegation and further consideration was postponed until comor-row. Meantime authorities bearing on the case at point are to be looked into. It is thought, however, that Senator Withing-ton's argument that any fixing of different scales of salaries by various counties would be in the nature of special legisla-tion in what is required to be a uniform law is incontrovertible.

The Paris Arbitration tribunal ruled out all claims for consequential damages, and allowed claims only when the vessels had actually been seized, and where the crews had been imprisoned. Even on this basis the claims amount to nearly $1,000,000. Besides, there were about two score men, officers and crews of the seized vessels, who suffered imprisonment, and their claims were compromised by the agreement made by Mr. Gresham.

The Scorstary believes if all these claims are submitted to a committee for adjustment, the United States will fare much worse than under the terms of the pending bill.

As for the Boston, which is also cited as an example of bad work, it is said the vessel hes been lying at Mare Island Navy-yard for months out of commission, although ready for service and in good order, simply for lack of men to make up her crew. The Benning is being held at Acapulco, according to Admiral Ramsay, chief of the Navigation Bureau, not because she is not in perfect order, but because that is a convenient port at which the vessel may be ordered at short notice to proceed to either South or Central America, or across the Pacific. As for the Torktown, which is said to be suffering from leaky boiler tubes, it is said this deprobably true, but it is not in any sence a redection upon the character of Mare Island work, that the tubes should leak after the vessel had crossed the Pacific and been in hard service on a foreign coast.

"When your honorable committee in De-United States notes in gold only, at that time, under conditions of extraordinary weakness in the treasury. I added that the United States was then (earlier) to redeem greenbacks and notes in silver and laugh at such consequences. Under the profound conviction that the present conprotound conviction that the present condition of the treasury and liberal accumulations of idle money in New York and other money centers, afford together a new opportunitunity to do so safely, I write to beg you to ask the Secretary of the Treasury to exercise the option conferred upon him by the law to redeem the United States notes in silver dollars. The treasury reserve is now composed of about $105,000,000 of gold and only about $15,000,000 of free silver. SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—The Call tomorrow will say: Atty.-Gen. Fitzgerald has rendered an opinion which will be filed tomorrow, stating that the salaries drawn by John F. Sheehan as receiver and manager of the People's Home Savings Bank, and by James Alva Watt, as his attorney, are improper and should be repaid. Fitzgerald's opinion was requested by the bank commissioners, and the Attorney-General maintains that the bank commissioners have no power to employ an attorney but if the bank has had a salaried attorney, he is an employee of the bank and if retained, his salary is to be fixed by the commissioners. The opinion continues that Sheehan's appointment as manager while he was acting as receiver, appointed by the court, was illegal, the latter office disqualifying him from holding the former, contemporaneously or subsequently. The receivership appointment being invalid, Fitzgerald holds that Sheehan must repay $2000 drawn in four months as manager's salary.

SUGAR BOUNTIES.

MENDMENT PROVIDING FOR THEIR PAYMENT.

It Applies to the Producers and Man ufacturers of Sugar in the United States Who Have not Received It.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Senator Black rn, on behalf of the Committee Appropriations, today introduced amendment to the Sundry Civil Bill to provide for the payment of the full bounty on the sugar produced in 1893, and for the payment of eighttenths of a cent per pound on the production of 1894. The amendment for paymen of the first-class claims carries an appre priation of $238,239, and is as follows:

"That there shall be paid by the Secretary of the Treasury to those producers and manufacturers of sugar in the United States from maple sap, beets, sorghum or raw sugar cane grown in the United States bounty laws as contained in the schedules of the tariff act of 1890, a bounty of 2 cents a pound on all sugar testing not less than 90 deg. by the polariscope, and 1% cents per pound on all sugar testing less than 90 and not less than 80 deg., manufactured and produced by them previous to the 28th of August, 1894, and upon which no bounty has previously been paid."

which no bounty has previously been paid."

The provision for the payment of a part of last year's bounty is that there shall be paid to those producers who complied with the McKinley bounty law by filing applications for license and the bonds required prior to July 1, 1894, and who would have been entitled to receive a license bounty of eight-tenths of a cent a pound on sugars actually manufactured and produced in the United States testing not less than 80 deg. during the period of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1895, comprised in the period commencing August 28, 1894, and ending June 30, 1895, and for this purpose $5,000,000 is appropriated. No bounty is to be paid to any person engaged in refining sugars which have been imported into the United States or produced in the United States upon which the bounty herein provided for has already been paid or applied for.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue is empowered to make regulations for the payment of the bounty and to employ two revenue agents in addition to those already employed for the transaction of the business.

Mr. Martin of Indiana, chairman of the Committee on Invalid Pensions, asked unanimous consent to extend the evening session tonight (for consideration of private pension bills) to 12 o'clock. Mr. Jones of Virginia objected.

The House then went into committee of the whole and resumed consideration of the General Deficiency Appropriation Bill. When the paragraphs relating to the eleventh census was reached Mr. Hepburn wanted to know when the reports of the last census were to be published. Five years had elapsed, he said, and yet but two of the twenty-six volumes had reached the public.

Mr. Breckinsidge, in charge of the bill, replied that all the material would be in the hands of the printer March 1, and the volumes would be published thereafter as rapidly as possible.

Mr. Livingston (Dem.) of Georgia moved to strike out the appropriation of $120,000 for United States marshal fees. It precipitated some discussion.

Mr. Boatner criticised the appropriation on the ground that no specific claims of these had been furnished.

Mr. Cannon (Rep.) of Illinois defended the appropriation. A large portion of the sum was to pay deputy marshals who were in Chicago on the occasion of the riots there a year ago. The amount of these fees could only be estimated, for, he said, vouchers were not transmitted to the department of justice until they were paid.

On motion of Mr. Boatner a provision was added to the paragraph requiring the Attorney-General to report to Congress a list of the persons to whom this money should be paid and the amounts paid each.

Gradually the discussion drifted into the question of the government taking a hand in the suppression of the strike.

Mr. Breckinridge expressed his apprehension that the doors were opening too wide when great corporations were allowed to go into the courts and secure protection for their property at great expense to the government. Mr. Henderson (Rep.) of Iowa, in an eloquent response, called attention to the resolution pessed by Congress after the President had sent troops to Chicago, commending his action. The government, said he, must afford protection to interstate commerce and it must inforce the mandates of the courts.

"I am glad," said he, "to live in a country where the executive met his duty, as Mr. Cleveland did, manfully and courageously, and where Congress with one voice, indorsed his action.

"The storm has now blown over," he continued, "and the men who took their lives in their hands, who responded to the call of the law and helped to execute it should have their pay. Most of them are poor. Now, when the troups has passed, can we afford to haggle and growl about paying them their due? Shame upon Congress if it falls to do its duty."

Mr. Livingston argued that it was not a question of refusing to pay the honest obligations of the government, but it is claimed that much of this appropriation.

Mr. Livingston finally withdrew his motion to strike out the appropriation.

Mr. Livingston offered an amendment to pay C. B. Payne, Charles Morgan, M. C. Mordecal and the Southern Steamship Company $2510 for mail service rendered some years ago. THE POOLING BILL.

It is Giving Democratic Se Much Uneasiness.

Secondard Press Leased-wire Service.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22,—The Dem WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The Demo-cratic Steering Committee of the Senate after many postponements held a meeting today and decided to recommend to the Senate that Senator Butler should be per-mitted to move at 3 o'clock tomorrow for the consideration of the Pooling Bill, that this bill should be continued as the un-finished business until 12 o'clock Monday and if it should not be disposed of by that time it should give place to other busi-ness. The programme was immediately time it should give place to other business. The programme was immediately construed into a decision to hold a Sunday session and this fact was made the most of by those Senators who oppose the bill. The advocates of the bill did not admit in so many words that their purpose included a Sunday session, but they confessed that if they should succeed in getting the bill up they would use their utmost endeavors to have it voted upon before the expiration of the time set for its consideration and as this time would include only about three hours of the Sating the bill up they would use their utmost endeavors to have it voted upon before the expiration of the time set for its consideration and as this time would include only about three hours of the Saturday session and one bour of the Monday session they would necessarily have very limited time for the bill without either a night or a Sunday session.

When Senator Butler who, as chairman of the Interstate Commerce Committee, has charge of the bill, was asked what his purpose was, as to a Sunday session he said he did not want to be quoted as saying anything that could be construed into a threat and he would only say he would use his best endeavors to get the bill before the Senate and that if he should succeed in that he would continue his exertions in its behalf until a vote could be reached. He felt confident of the success of the bill in case a vote could be reached, and he believed a clear majority would be shown on the vote for consideration. While Senator Butler would name no figures it is understood cother friends of the bill claim that a final vote would show two-thirds of the Senate in favor of it. The opponents concede if a vote should be reached it would pass, but they are determined in the declaration that it shall not reach the point when the test of its strength shall be made. The tactics which they will pursue were foreshadowed in Senator Pettigrew's brief speech in the Senator Senators aldrich and Chandler among the Republicans.

SALEM (Or.,) Feb. 22.—Only one more day of the legislative sension remains, and unless a United States Sensior is elected before midnight tonight, Oregon will have the upper before midnight tonight, Oregon will have but the representative in the upper branch of Congress for the next two years. Dolph's strength is gradually melting away and 'st is now vyractically settled that he cannot be elected. He lost two more votes today, which brings his vote down to thirty-seven, or nine short of a majority.

Gov. McConnell is Viewed as a Likely determination to prolong the deadlock, it is pretty well understood that the Legislature will elect a Senator before adjournment. Sentiment in the State is so decidedly against adjournment without election, that few of the members would care to return to their constituencies without having decided the contest.

As it stands now, Sweet's fight is apparently hopeless, unless he can get the Populist support—a contingency which seems remote after the failure to secure action in that direction by the Populist caucus last night. Shoup's election depends largely on a possible break in Sweet's support, and it is predicted the break will come early next week, when it is demonstrated beyond doubt that Sweet has no hope of Populist votes.

In case the deadlock is prolonged until the last days of the session, which closes March 7, it is expected a dark horse will be put forward. In that event—Gov. McConnell's chances are considered extremely good.

two extensive dry goods stores in Cleveland, O., and dealt largely with their firm. Accounts had run to such an extent that McGillin's indebtedness to the H. B. Claffin Company was no less than $1,200,000 at that time. For some time previous Mr. McGillin had speculated in western cattle-ranches. He therefore handed over the such as the such

Mr. McGillin had speculated in western cattle-ranches. He therefore handed over his two stores together with certain stocks and bonds in his cattle companies. Clafilin's attorneys claim that the matter was fully settled at that time.

Mr. McGillin, however, in the winter of 1889 brought an attachment suit against the two stores in Cleveland, claiming $1,000,000. The suit was dismissed. In the present action complainant alleges that the stocks and bonds handed over in 1888 were of a value largely in excess of those of the goods supplied.

His Daughter Applies for Letters of Adinistration.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.-Louise McAllister daughter of the late Ward McAllis applied for letters of administration before Surrogate Fitzgerald. The deceased, according to the petition, left his widow, Sarah McAllister; the petitioner, Louise McAllister, and two sons, Ward McAllis, ter, Jr., and Hayward H. McAllister, as property does not exceed the sum of $10,000. Edward Lauterbach represented Ward McAliister, Jr., and Anderson, Howland & Murray appeared for the petitioners.

MUNCIE. (Ind.,) Feb. 22.—For several weeks J. N. Lambert, near Daleville, this county, has been making big preparations for an old-fashioned barn-raising at his home. He had prepared to erect a very large barn and invitations were sent to every able-bodied man in Salem township to come prepared to spend the day at his home, assist in raising the big timbers and partake of a banquet. A heavy beam was loosened by the strong wind and pitched down in the crowd of men. David Goetz was crushed to death, Alonzo Funkbouser was fatally and William Jasper slightly hurt.

ROUNDED UP.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—A gang of boy pirates after operating with singular boldness and remarkable success for the past eighteen months, has been rounded up and the quartette landed in prison.

The entire outfit, comprising a sloop and rowboat, a wagon and team with a large quantity of provisions, was cap-tured. Capt. Wilcox, known as the "King of the Pirates," is an experienced sailor and piloted the craft across the bay upon stormy nights which best suited the pirat-ical operations. The game holdly sailed

The opposition say they are working in the interest of no particular candidate, but their fight is "anything to beat Dolph." They say they stand ready to vote for any one else the Dolph men may put forward, but their opposition to Dolph is firm and determined.

George H. Williams received the entire opposition vote today, with the exception of two. He is looked upon with favor by many of the Dolph men, but they feel it incumbent upon them to vote for the caucus nomines as long as there is a chance of his election.

At 10 o'clock tonight the Dolph men will caucus and decide whether to prevent an election, or mame a man upon whom the opposition will unite. In the event of a break from Dolph, or a decision on the part of his supporters to name a man, the support is liable to go to Williams, Gov. Lord or C. W. Fulton of Astoria.

The Populists and Democrats have decided to take no part in the fight. One ballot was taken today, as follows: Dolph, 37; Williams, 30; Hare (Pop.,) 10; Raley (Dem.,) 3; Smith, 1; Fulton, 1; Lord, 1; absent, 3.

"While all the contestants in the Sevatorial fight are apparently firm in their determination to prolong the deadlock, it is pretty well understood that the Legislature will believe a Sevator before a ness stole anything it could find on the wharves or on vessels discharging cargo. Provisions were preferred as most easily sold. All the plunder was taken to the Alameda side and unloaded in the San Leandro Bay, where a warehouse was located for the storage of the stolen goods subsequently sold from door to door at prices far below the market rates. So bold were the pirates that they continued their depredations on a wholesale order and their low prices were explained on the pretense of a cut in provisions by wholesale houses. Their capture was the result of incautiously offering a large consignment of flour at one-third the market quotation. The women solicited ordered the flour delivered on the following day, meanwhile notifying the police. Evidence against the thieves is so direct that commitment to the penitentiary is considered inevitable.

Speculating About the Future.

Speculating About the Future.

(Boston Home Journal:) One Boston minister says: "If you go down to the gates of hell, and it is recorded that you came from Boston, they will say: 'Make it hot for him, because he comes from Boston, an intellectual place, where he ought to have known better." If this is really true, the only salvation for a sinning Bortonian is to remove to New York as quickly as he can, for then when he dies and goes down to the gates of hell, and it is recorded that he comes from New York, they will say: "Give him a cake of tee to sit the a mint julep and a fan, because he cances from New York, a wicked place, where he could not resist the current."

OFFICE OF THE TIMES, LOS ANGELES, Feb. 22, 1895. LOS ANGELES, Feb. 22, 1895.
Following up its showing in regard to the expenditures of the city, the Investor is giving a synopsis of county expenditures.
The statement for the month of January shows disbursements of $42,932, independent of schools, library and interest on bonded indebtedness. The following is the statement in detail:

Auditor
Clerk 3,161.
Coroner 443.
Courthouse 1,266.
District Attorney 1,005.
General expense 8,737.
Health 127.
Horticultural Commissioners 1,007.
Hospital 4,883.
Hospital farm 2,340.
Leguard 2,840. 285

Total

Total 342,932.71

The large amount under the heading of "General Expense," $8737.90, includes, among other things: Jurors' fees, $1973.80; constables' fees, $2015.06; tax rebatics, $467.67; justices' fees, $364.75, and the moiety- of the six Superior judges' salaries paid by the county, $1000 for the month, the other moiety being paid by the State. Commenting upon these figures the Investor makes the following remarks, which are apparently justified by the showing:

Investor makes the following "emarks, which are apparently justified by the showing:

"In looking over the details submitted in another column it is evident that there are places where economy may be practiced. We think that every intelligent citizen will be able to point to the probable leaks. The cost of the hospital and of the hospital farm seem to be excessive, as the latter institution is commonly supposed to be self-supporting.

"The expense of the roads demands closer investigation—7012.21 was disbursed on the January account, which appears to be a high price for the kind of roads found in this county. The system appears to be not as economically managed as the interests of the taxpayers require.

"In the items charged to the Sheriff's account, the sum of $1172.25 for prisoners' meals for January appears to be a large allowance unless the prisoners are fed upon richer fare than poor men ordinarily get."

The following charges for "supplies"—whatever that may mean—are also notable: Evening Express Company, supplies, $5.50.

There is certainly something peculiar about the coinage question when a gang of counterfeiters can go to work and clear up $500,000 by turning out some million doilars' worth of American silver doilars, halves, quarters and ten-cent pleces. These coins were made of pure silver and full weight was coined. That is to say, they were in every respect equal to the silver coins which are issued by the United States government; yet there was a profit of 50 per cent. in the transaction. How long can the United States keep up a silver currency that is only worth half its face value? It looks as if something would have to drop before long.

The Times has referred on several occations to the encouraging change which has taken place during the past couple of vears in the production of the necessaries of life in California. It is only a very few vears since a large percentage of food products were imported into the State from the East, but this, is becoming less and less the case from month to month. Every year we are exporting some articles of import. The lastest noteworthy move in this direction is the shipping of eggs by the carload from California to Chicago, as reported yesterday in a special dispatch from Chicago to The Times.

GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS.

The recent meeting at the Chamber of commerce in favor of the railroad to salt Lake did not amount to much, and mother meeting is to be held this evening to discuss the same subject. There is no uestion but that a nailroad from Los ingeles to Salt Lake would be a paying netitution from the start, and would largely increase the prosperity of Los Angeles. The mineral resources of the sec-tion, which would be traversed by this road, are very great, not only in the pre-cious metals, but also in iron and coal, which might be brought down to Los Angeles and utilized in the running of several large smelting establishments. The gap in the road between Los Angeles and Salt Lake is so small, amounting to not more than three hundred miles, that it is curprising that it has not been bridged before this. This, however, ap-pears to be one of the cases where there pears to be one of the cases where there has been too much ery and too little wool. For several years past there has been talk about the construction of this road, and hundreds of columns have been printed on the subject in the nowspapers, while at itsust helf a dozen various schemes have been bruached for the building of the road. In at least one case the matter has gone so far as the collection of money in Los Angeles, and this quite recently. The consequence of this agitation has been that the people of Los Angeles have begun to look at the Salt Lake railroad question as something of a "chestant," and M is not surprising that it is difficult to arouse renowed interest on the subject. It takes comething more than newspaper articles or mass meetings to build railroads. The best way is for a number of means, who are interested in such a project, to get together and start the ball rolling with substantial subscriptions in private before they appring the subject on the public and invite general subscriptions. as been too much cry and too little wool.

cies which until quite recently have been articles of import. The lastest noteworthy move in this direction is the shipping of eggs by the carload from California to Chicago, as reported yesterday in a special dispatch from Chicago to The Times. It seems that eggs are worth 23 cents a dozen, while they were selling in San Francisco at 16 cents a dozen have the freight is less than 4 cents a dozen there is a good profit for the shipping some eggs soon, as they can be bought here for several cents a dozen less that the price which was paid in San Francisco.

Butter is also a drug on the market in San Francisco, and it is not improbable that some may be shipped East, unless prices take a rise before long. A large portion of California offers ideal locations for dairies, and it may be expected that before long a good many of the big dairy establishments of the country will follow the example of the Eigin company, which, as recently mentioned in The Times, proposes to locate in the San Joaquin Valley.

ONTARIO.

ONTARIO, Feb. 22.—(Special Correspondence.) Ontario is agitated just now over the problem of who is going to build its electric railway. A few days ago, a local syndicate of capitalists secured possession of three-fifths of the stock of the Ontario and San Antonio Heights Railway Company. It was their intention to put in an electric-light plant and electricize the street-car line. But the purchase of the stock carried with it only power enough to operate the road, and satisfactory terms could not be made for power for lights. A new company, with ample capital, also proposed to build the road and put in lights. This company, the Ontario Electric Company, has the water power for the lights, and it is probable that a compromise will be made which will give one company the electric-road franchise, and the other the contract for lighting and furnishing power to Ontalighting and furnishing power to ranchise, and the other the contract for lighting and furnishing power to Ontario.

SANTA BARBARA COUNTY.

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 22.—(Speciorrespondence.) Over-zealous journalis are seeking to make much capital of re-cent occurrences in Santa Barbira, so that timid individuals are impressed with a conviction that a reign of terror exists here, and that we are infested with high-waymen. The facts of the case are that on the night of the lith two men made attempts to hold up citizens, securing light funder. Although they displayed wea-pons, they were far from being as blood-thirsty as this would indicate, and readily granted the request of their principal victim that he should be permitted to re-tain a valuable gold wach, a present from his dead father. A week later a re-spectable citizen, alarmed by a mischiev-ous friend, brandished a revolver at some eking to make much capital of rericim that he should be permitted to retain a valuable gold warch, a present from his dead father. A week later a respectable citizen, alarmed by a mistokerous friend, brandished a revolver at some imoficensive people whom he mistook for highwaymen. Two nights since a lady reported that a man tried to snatch her giove from her hand under the impression that it was her purse, although it is probable this was the prank of some funloving youth. These are the extent of Santa Barbara's highway robberies for a period of two years past.

D. W. Thompson, former proprietor of the Affington Hotel, and old resident and a wealthy land-owner in this and Ventura counties, had his leg ampusted on Thursday by Dr. Hall, at the Cottage Hospital. J. Scudder, and the meeting was able to fully consider the effect of the operations of the month.

The treasurer showed that his receipts, which were almost wholly from subscriptions, reached the sum of $258.20. Of this amount $144.55 had been already expended, and there was still due and owing $98.75.

Roughly speaking, the association had distributed $250 during the month, and the broken stone resulting from the relief work came to nearly fifty cubic yards. It was, therefore, evident that there would be a loss on the month's work of $100, even if the stone was sold at $3 per yard. The extent of the deficiency is partly accounted for by the fact that men in search of assistance came directly to the stone yard, and did not apply to householders for food as formerly. Hence meal tickets were issued direct and charged to the association.

Arrests for vagrancy have decreased, and begging by tramps has very greatly diminished. An opportunity has thus been gained for discriminating between the unfortunate and the victous. Added to these considerations is the great saving of distress to the needy during these hard and stringent times.

Chinese Students in the United States

The reports connected with the Japanese-Chinese war have had much to say that is creditable to those men of both nations who have received their education in the United States. Minister Deuby in a recent report referred to the bravery and gallantry exhibited in the Yaloo River engagement by some of the Chinese who were students in the United States several years ago. In 1872 thirty Chinese boys, selected from the best families, were sent to the United States to be educated and others were sent later and were put under the charge of Yung Wing, a graduate of Yale College. Subsequently it was reported to the Chinese government that the boys were losing or had lost their patriotism, and in 1881 they were all recalled and the system of education was abandoned. Of ten Chinese recommended for honors recently four were former American students. One of them, Wo-Wo, studied in the Sheffield Scientific School, New Haven, and was brevetted a commander, with a red button of the second rank, for bravery. Tsao-Kin-Chions, brevetted a captain and decorated with a red button was graduated at Phillips Academy. Tsu-Chung-Tong was graduate from a Connecticut academy, has a second rank button and a first lieutenant's commission. Uncle Sam's domain is no insignificant affair. It is capacious enough to nurture all the best hopes of freedom and the grandest promises of enlightened progress. With its millions of population it has still room for miliions more without trenching at all upon the landed property of those who are already here. Vaster than many an Old World empire is our remaining area of public and unoccupled lands, for of these we have not less than 2,836,537 square miles, open to industry, inviting development and awaiting the advent of the pick and ax, the plow and other implements of

It is within the memory of many now upon the stage of action when Ohio and Indiana were regarded as a part of the great West, about which the romance of mystery hung. We hardly dared to think toward the sunset beyond these points. What lay beyond their boundary was to us dim and unconsidered realm sepa rated from us by the mighty spaces of the continent, by great rivers and silent deserts swept by hot winds with trackless plains paved by bleach ing bones, waterless voids where Death stalked and the bloodthirsty savage confronted the adventurous pioneer with his poisoned arrows. But now, American civilization ha conquered all this vast territory of the vaster West, and the march of empire has reached the shores of the sunset sea. From ocean to ocean and from the gulf to the lakes but one flag floats, but one starry banner pro claims the advance of freedom. Ohio and Indiana are no longer "out West," that vague term for more than half a continent, of which early in the cen- the counties through which it will tury we knew scarcely nothing, save pass. that it existed. The geography of that period was not the geography of the present. Texas and New Mexico, California and Alaska were not ours Barbarism, as well as Old World peo ples, was beyond us to the westward the mighty Oregon rolled through its primeval ways and "heard no sound save its own dashings. en we read of "the great American the least, as to whether the proposed Desert," as dread to our imaginations as the vast, wild and sirocco-swept wastes of the African Sahara. "Russian America" occupied the great northwestern portion of our maps, a worthless territory, we deemed, fit manner proposed, and if the people of only for the lazy Aleut and other tribes of half-civilized Indians, berdered by frozen seas and sentineled by drifting icebergs. Of its mighty forests bordering the great Yukon, its wealth of fisheries and its great mines of coal and of the precious yellow metal we knew nothing. But today the center of the population of the United States is only twenty miles east of Columbus, Ind. The march of empire has been steady and unceasing toward the West, which less than a century ago was to the people of this but a terra incognita. Hamlets and towns and cities have marked everywhere this advance of civiliza-authority should be obtained as to tion. The shining iron rail has spanned the continent, and the echoing hoof-beats of the iron horse are heard from ocean to ocean. The printing press has followed in its track; the church and the schoolhouse crown the vanishing wilderness, and American civilization has conquered this whole vast territory for freedom a temperature of 420 deg. below zero the tensile strength of iron is doubled, and that it will stand a strain of sixty instead of thirty tons to square fach. His theory of the phenomenon is that the particles of ironand of all other substances are constant motion, which increases as they are heated until they liquify. and that the very low temperature increases the strength of the iron by retarding the motion of the particle and giving them a greater power of attraction for each other. This theory is ingenious and plausible, but it car hardly be said to have reached the demonstrable stage.

Senator Mills has given notice that he will introduce an amendment to the Sundry Civil Appropriations Bill to repeal all laws which authorize the Secretary of the Treasury to sell bonds for any purpose. It seems impossible that either house will entertain so preposterous an amendment, which if enacted into law would virtually repeal the Resumption Act, and might cripple the treasury and compel a suspension of specie pay-ments. But there is no danger that Mr. Mills's measure will become a law, for President Cleveland would promptly veto it should it pass both houses of Congress.

The San Francisco Chronicle voices a sentiment which seems to prevail throughout the State, as follows: President Cleveland has Judge E. M. Ross, now District Judge of the Southern District of California, to the Circuit Court of the Ninth Circuit, and the appointment will be received wih general satisfaction. Judge Ross is a man possessed of the true judicial temperament and faculty to a marked degree. When on the preme Court bench of California his decisions were noted for their clearness and soundness, and the promotio he has just received has been well earned.'

"The honds will be issued all the same, and the silverites can make the most of it," remarks the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. This statement is somewhat lacking in truth. If one may judge by the rate at which the bonds were resold in Europe, it appears that the syndicates which bought them in the first place are naking the most of it.

From Rhadamanthus in the nether gloom.
One is a slave—hunger has made him pine;
One is a King—his arms and jewels shine.
Making strange splendor in the dismal room.

"Hence!" cries the judge, "and strip them!
Let them come
With naught to show if they be coarse or fine.
Of garb and body they are swift bereft:
Such is hell'a law—nothing but soil is left.
The slave, in virtue glorious, is held fit

The King, by vice deformed, is sent below
To herd with base slaves in the wailing pit.

WEATHER THAT IS BALM. A Record that Makes the Frost-bitten Sigh for the Pacific.

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 22.—(Special Corre-Florida this winter have proven to the minds of practical and disinterested fruit growers that Southern California is certainly destined to be the orange and lemon enter of the United States, possibly for all time to come. The two freezes this season have generally destroyed the or-ange and lemon crops in Florida; and it is believed that the fruit trees themselves ange and lemon crops in Florida; and it is believed that the fruit trees themselves have either been killed or so seriously injured that their bearing capacity will be materially reduced for years to come. This state of affairs is very unfortunate for Florida. The sympathy of California goes out to that State because California realizes that the presence of blighting winter weather will deter capital seeking investment in citrus fruit culture from embarking in a section where there is a possibility of such a damaging presence. Capital is easily alarmed. The probability that even once in ten or twenty years a killing frost might sweep down upon an orange or lemon orchard and destroy, not only the fruit, but also the trees, is an obstacle causing would-be fruit-growers to pause and read the official weather records and gather reliable, unprejudiced and official data about the temperatures on the lands where they contemplate settling. And when one studies the weather records at this point for nearly a quarter of a century, the student is assured that San Diego county offers immunity from killing frosts. M. L. Hearne, United States Weather Bureau observer at San Diego, has compiled a statement of the maximum and minimum temperatures monthly at this station for the past twenty-two years, 1872 to 1894 inclusive, for The Times. The statement for the winter months is as follows: Jan Feb Mch Nov Dec for but a few hours, as indicated by the government self-registering thermometer, from which this statement was taken. As it requires a temperature of 28 des. for a protracted time to destroy a crop of oranges or lemons, it will be seen from this government table that San Diego enjoys absolute immunity from killing frosts.

There are already planted in San Diego county 350,000 lemon trees and 300,000 orange trees. There are hundreds of thousands of acres here especially adapted for lemon culture. The absence of killing frosts from these acres makes them desirable for lemon ranches.

MISREPRESENTED.

J. C. Newton and Louis Thorne are Wilfully Misquoted.
Under the caption of "The Race Track Property," an article appeared in the Herald's issue of Thursday last, which has given rise to some misconception regarding the true facts of the case. Both J. C. Newtor, and Louis Thorne, president and secretary respectively, of the Sixth District Agricultural Association, repudiate the utterances imputed to them, and give a somewhat different version of the transactions referred to in the disputed article. Wilfully Misquoted.

rett about the bill, and after it had passed the Assembly and had advanced to the third reading file in the Senate, he wired to Senators Androus and Mathews his ideas regarding its probable operation, and upon the following day learned that with one exception, not one of the direc-tors of the association knew that such a bill had been introduced in the Legisla-ture. While the board of directors was in session a communication was received to the effect that the bill had passed the Senate, and upon a resolution of the board Mr. Newton was empowered to proceed to Sacramento to submit a true showing of the facts in the case to the proceed to Sacramento to submit a true showing of the facts in the case to the Governor.

Mr. Newton specifically denies that he ever asserted that Maj. Barrett went to Sacramento to advocate the pasage of a bill to create a branch of the State Fair at Los Angeles and abolish the district fairs; or that he went to Sacramento, in response to a telegram from him, to aid him to defend the interests of the association, which were in danger. Mr. Newton claims that he was in entire ignorance of Maj. Barrett's mission north, and as he did not leave Los Angeles until the bill had passed both houses, the idea that he went to Sacramento to assist in its passage is absurd, to say the least.

The representations made regarding the grading of Figueroa street were equally wide of the mark. What Mr. Newton asserts he did say was to the effect that the Sixth District Association was the most prosperous in the State; that about $10,000 had been paid for the grand stand and $3000 for street paving. That the lister expense could have been avoided if the directors had made a united effort to and $3000 for street paving. That the latter expense could have been avoided if the directors had made a united effort to prevent the street being graded below the railroad. He had not the most remote idea that the stockholders' interests influenced the board of directors one way or another in relation to the grading of that portion of Figueroa street, as the deed of conveyance of the property specifies the purpose for which the proceeds from the sale of those lots shall be applied.

That "the Gazarour signed the hall."

ceeds from the sale of those lots shall be applied.

That "the Gevernor signed the bill under a misapprehension" of Mr. Newton's idea is, according to the latter gentleman, diametrically opposed to the real facts of the case. He, on the contrary, thought the Gevernor thoroughly understood the situation. He did say, however, that probably very few members of the Legislature knew that Agricultural Park in District No. 6, was conveyed by deed to the Sixth District Agricultural Association in perpetuity for the specified purpose of holding fairs.

Other errors of omission and commission are pointed out by President Newton and Secretary Thorne, who have protested against the mutilation of their words.

the day in driving about town examining improvements, made within the past year, such as should be included in the next city assessment roll.

Mr. Hull was asked last night if he had heard of any attempt on the part of any of the rallway companies to move their personal property out of town, so as to evade the assessment to be made on March 1, as had been reported to appear to be the case in Oakland.

In reply the City Assessor said that he had not heard of any such attempt being made. It would be no object for any of the ralliroad companies to move rolling stock out of the city, for the amount of assessment of such stock is fixed by the State Board of Equalization. Personal property would, therefore, be the only thing that it would be any saving to any of the companies to have moved, and no such movement had been reported to him.

BOSTON, Feb. 23.—The Suffolk Athletic Club, at a meeting tonight, presented a six-round bout between Peter Maher, chamsix-round bout between Peter Maher, cham-plon middleweight of Ireland, and Jim-Hall of Australia as the chief feature. The referee, J. A. Kellher, called it a draw at the finish and the 2000 spectators hissed the decision. The battle was very tame, Maher forcing the fight in all but the fourth round, and doing the most effective work.

Maher forcing the fight in all but the fourth round, and doing the most effective work.

Throughout the contest Hall was on the defensive, and the coolness with which the sixth round was fought, which was expected to be the hottest round, when both men walked to their corners, called forth hisses from the spectators.

Maher was in perfect fighting form at 171 pounds. Hall was trim at 167½. Maher forced Hall to the four corners of the ring and made his object the heart of the Australian. At no time during the contest was there an indication of a finish contest, but Maher showed his superiority in leading and countering.

Legislative Sensation.

GUTHRIE (Okla.,) Feb. 22.—The first great sensation of the Oklahoma Legislature took place tonight. The Republicans of the House, largely in the majority, were holding a caucus in the Hodse chamber, discussing matters of party concern, when Representative Neabit (Pop.) and Representative Hailis (Dem.,) both of Cleveland county, demanded admittance and were refused admittance by the dookkeeper. They declared they had a right in and could not be shut out by a Republican caucus. Neabit secured a big ladder and proceeded to knock the door down. Representative George Vickers of Aiva was the first Republican met and his giant frame was soon raining blows on Nesbitt's head, who fied to the basement saloon. A serious riot was narrowly averted. The Republicans, however, concluded their caucus undisturbed. Legislative Sensation.

Kate Brownlee Sherwood of Ohio read the report of the Committee on Patriotic Teaching. She then discussed the influ-ence of patriotism in founding and preserv-ence or patriotism in counting and preserving free institutions. She said in part:

"Patriotism does not reach its highest form on the battle-field, when the trumpets blare and the general cried 'Forward!' Splendid is the patriotism that leads a man to die for his country in the fore front of battle, but splendid beyond human speech to deplet is the patriotism that leads to the martyr's stake, to the death of humiliation and defeat and the reproach of men. She who leads a temperance crusade is nobler than he who wrenched Jerusade is nobler than he who builds an armory. A free kindergarten that teaches the use of hand and eye and fertile brain is better. A training-school of industrial arts would do more for popular advancement in a decade than West Point has done in all the years of its existence."

She declared that women are citizens, if not voters. Their interest in moral and municipal reforms was arousing them to a sense of their duty and power for good. She held that woman was a natural reformer and that her interest should be awakened not only where purity and temperance are involved, but in every question that affects national prosperity for a principle of right and wrong. Louise Barnum Robbins of Michigan, then discussed the part played by patriotism through the schools in forming the exhools and free education. If need be, let them assume control of the text-books and let a few Jeffersons and Websters and Clays and Wendell Phillips be found for the noble task of compiling in our school books the high thoughts of man and God, liberty and patriotism place in the schools the sharp hearts of children. Mrs. Kate Brownlee Sherwood of Canton, O., reviewed the revolutionary types of women of the republic whom she held to be the direct heritors of the women of the revolution.

"All talk of a new woman," she said, "is a mere fable. There is no new woman. Without the blessed woman the world would be a howling whiderness, such as Dante saw and was afraid of."

Mary H. Krout of Chicago closed the proceedings of the day with "Women as Patriots."

Fruit Chinese Syndicate.

Fruit Chinese Syndicate.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—A syndicate of wealthy Chinese of this city, composed of members of the Six Companies, has secured a lease of the fruit ranch owned by Gen. John C. Bidwell, the Chico millionaire. Bidwell's orchard was for many years the most extensive in the State and still ranks second, containing between 4000 and 5000 acres planted in deciduous fruits. Nor has the syndicate stopped at the one place. Several large orchards in the northern fruit belt, comprising the districts about Marysville, Vina, Willows, Red Blum and Oroville, aggregating several thousand acres, have been secured at rentals varying from $1000 to $5000 a year. The past two seasons have been so unprofitable to orchardists that they are glad to lease to Chinese, who are able to hire coolies at half the wages a white man would be obliged to pay them, and can thus afford to pay big rentals. A local cannery, owned and operated by Chinese, will handle the products of these leased ranches. In the orchards white laborers will be unable to obtain employment, and serious labor troubles are feared during the coming season.

Upon his still refusing they beat him into insensibility, and, after ransacking the house, escaped.

The disastrous freezes in Florida this winter will certainly serve to turn the at-tention of growers of citrus fruits more than ever toward Southern California. The immunity of this section from killing frosts is strikingly flustrated in a complia-tion, for The Times, of the maximum and minimum temperature for a period of twenty-two years, by M. L. Hearne, United States Weather Bureau observer at San Di-ego. The table, which is given elsewhere in this issue, shows that only five times in twenty-two years has the temperature at San Diego fallen to 32 degrees, and even a few hours each time, as shown by the government self-registering thermometer. When it is remembered that to destroy an orange crop requires a temperature as low as 28 degrees for a protracted period, the significance of these figures becomes ap-parent. What is true of San Diego is ap-proximately true of the other orange-growing sections of Southern California. This part of the State is certain to be, in the not very distant future, the great "citrus belt" of the continent.

AS A WINTER RESORT

do Has the Warmest Climate is California.

There throngs of tourists from all parts of the Grited States and Canada make the trip every winter. It has long been the place of fashionable favor, until it now has become one of the popular winter resorts of America's people of note and refinement. Pleasure seekers and visitors of all classes are gratified without stint at the varied attractions, the abundance and character of the pleasures and pastimes prov/ded for the enjoyment of guests at this favore? part of California. This may well be called the paraise of the sportsman, as here there is boating, fishing, swimming in the hot and cold salt water tanks or in the suri, hunting, coursing with blooded hounds either on horseback or in a carriage. It has the finest winter-resort hotel in America, has every modern convenience, including steam heat throughout the building. Unlike most hotels, instead of making a charge for its use, the management prefers that guests teep the steam turned on rather than off. They do not have to send to the office for permits, keys, or engineers to turn it on, but simple handy valves which any child cun open are always in reach.

Class Colors at the High School.

More trouble has broken out at the High School in connection with the display of class colors. It seems that members of the summer graduating class leased for that purpose the small building just south of the High-school grounds, and on Wednesday night last painted it in stripes of the class colors. Principal Cates chanced to see what was being done and, later in the night, had the colors, which were pink and green, covered with a coat of gray paint. It was afterwards reported that Principal Cates had agreed, tansmuch as the building was on property over which he had no jurisdiction, to restore the class colors on it, as they had been placed by members of the class.

PERRIS.

PERRIS, Feb. 22.—(Special Correspondence.) Washington's birthday was appropriately celebrated by the schools proprietor of the Homestead Hotel, where a Randard Union reporter found him last night.

"What is the secret of my remedy?" he smilingly observed, in response to a question. "There is no secret. Neither am I a doctor; and there hasn't been one in my house for almost a quarter of a centure." My doctor stands up there on the safe in the form of Perry Davis' Pain-Killer, and under no circumstances would I allow myself to be without a bottle.

"I was once afflicted by ulcerated sore throat, and my position became so critical that three physicians, who had been called in consultation, gently broke the yarn to me that my days were numbered. An application of Pain-Killer was suggested. I tried it. A week later I was back at my work.

"A few weeks afterwards a neighbor's wife was suffering from the same affliction. I sent a bottle to her, and in a few days she came to my house to thank me for having saved her life.

"My oldest boy, last winter, was attacked with inflammatory rheumatism. I applied Pain-Killer and drove every vestige of the malady out of his system.

"My two boys were brought through a siege of diphtheria, at a time when the disease was widespread, and the Pain-Killer's success with them induced me to send a dozen bottles to neighbors whose children were also prostrated. In every instance it effected a cure. That's why they call me "Doctor" in Blissville."

WE are in a position this season in our dress goods department to give the very best values. The best values are in new styles and new goods. When you can buy silks for 25c a yard there certainly can be no doubt about the prices being extremely low. These silks are not worthless trash, but bright, new and stylish goods; they are all small, neat patterns in dark colors, and are equal in every respect to the 50c silks of last year. We have at the present time a large assortment of styles. The 40c line of genuine Jap Kai Kai silks are the best grades of these excellent washable silks; they are all desirable patterns in both checks and stripes; the colors are rich and the threads are round and even; unlike the most of the Jap silks, this lot has no roughness in the weave; the colorings are all nice and even. A great many of the Kai Kais have streaks in them owing to the unevenness of the dyeing which shows very plainly in the goods when made up. The 50c line of genuine taffetas are a special purchase at a special price, and they are offered to you as one of the best leaders we ever offered; we have over 50 different patterns in these goods; they are all finely woven and perfect in every detail; they are a silk that cannot be retailed in a regular way for less than 75c a yard; this is our special bargain in the silk department for the new waists with the big sleeves. The dress goods department is selling a large quantity of goods at the present time; the low prices are in favor of the customer in every way. We have the best dollar line of wide 50-inch goods in nearly 100 different patterns; small checks predominate. Storm serges for separate skirts in 10 grades; blues and blacks are the best shades; the same goods make up well in the new style capes. We cut, fit and baste capes free for our customers. There is a special bargain today in the muslin underwear department. A sample line of odds and ends in nearly 1000 garments. No two garments alike. Today the best dollar kid glove you ever bought. Try a pair. We have all sizes and colors.

A Petition to be Circulated Among the City's Business Men Today.

A Committee of Twenty to Go to Sac ramento on Monday to Urge the Passage of the Measure in the Legislature.

It is a race against time to engineer the bill permitting the county to bond itself for the purpose of building a line of railroad to Salt Lake City, through the Legislature, but the attempt is to be made. The adjourned meeting of those interceted in the scheme reconvened last evening in the assembly half of the Chamber f Commerce, when there was quite a large rathering of representative citizens present.

Mayor Rader presided, Nathan Cole was secretary, and among others present were John Cross, W. H. Workman, Charles Forrester, J. M. C. Marble, A. C. Longley, E. C. Chapin, G. W. Parsons, F. C. Finlayson, Rev. Dr. Haskins, R. Pierce, J. C. Gilbert, G. J. Griffith, A. F. MacKay and very many others.

The meeting having been declared open A. C. Longley gave a brief resume of the history of the building of the Cincinnati Southern Railroad by the means sought to be adopted in the case of the proposed Salt Lake road. The scheme was first be adopted in the case of the proposed Sait Lake road. The scheme was first mooted at Cincinnati in 1873; the idea was new; doubts as to its feasibility were abroad, and only after about eighteen years' effort was the Cincinnati Southern built and completed in 1880. Built for $18,000,000, on a bonded indebtedness, it pays rental now of 5 per cent, on $27,000. 00, reducing the city's taxation by just pays rental now of 5 per cent. on $27,000,000, reducing the city's taxation by just so much.

Mr. Longley pointed out that while the counciles through which the proposed line will run will be required to issue $4,000,000 worth of bonds, at the Salt Lake end the road has already been extended 274 miles to Milford, and there is not likely to be any difficulty in having the work from that end prosecuted with vigor.

J. M. C. Marble followed with some pertinent facts bearing on the expense to the taxpayers. "Cincinnati was authorized," said he, "to borrow a sum equal to 5 per cent. of the taxable values of the city, at 7.3 per cent. interest. This would represent a first levy of nearly 50 per cent. greater than required, as the borrowing in this case is based on 5 per cent. Under the law as presented the largest levy that can be made for interest in any one year is 2½ mills. This means that the highest charge that can be made to maintain the interest. will be 25 cents on every $100 of the assessed value for taxation on the county taxroll. There are less than 800 taxpayers in this county paying taxes on $10,000, and less than fifty that pay on $100,000 and less than fifty that pay on $100,000 and over, and less than half a dozen that pay ca $500,000 or more, so that few would tave to pay more than $25 per annum tax for this purpose.

The speaker corrected Mr. Longley's figures somewhat by showing the exact rentals paid for leasing the Cincinnati road, which form a reasonable basis for a similar calculation in the case of the proposed line to Salt Lake. The Cincinnati road cost not far from $17,000,000. On its completion it was leased for twenty-five years. The amount of rental the first period of five years, $1,012,000 per year; fourth period of five years, $1,012,000 per year; furth period of five years, $1,012,000 per year; fourth period of five years $1.000 per year; third period of five years. The fourth year will be entered on in 1896, and the last period represents 5 per cent. annual interest on an investmen and one-hair days between here and one-cago.

W. H. Workman, who announced him-self as an enthusiast of many years' stand-ing for a road to Salt Lake, gave his per-sonal experiences of the great wealth awating the advent of a railroad to fall to this city. He told of the iron ore rising 250 feet above the level that runs 72 per cent. of the best magnetic ore; of coal veins that run in every direction and that have no present value for lack of transportation; of lead ore carrying of transportation; of lead ore carrying heavy percentages of gold and silver, and of a wide extent of agricultural land awaiting settlement.

"Once or twice," said Mr. Workman, "I have thought that I had this scheme for a road to Sakt Lake on the eve of consummation. I was always met, however, in the East by the question, "Why does not Los Angeles take the lead in the matter?" and the scheme fell again into abeyance. I myself am a heavy taxpayer, but willingly will assess myself 10 percent, in order to put the road through. And if built there are other transcontinental roads waiting to come into Los Angeles; the Rock Island, the Rio Grande Western and the Union Pacific."

With this profession of faith Mr. Workman concluded a short address that was most favorably received.

Capt. John Cross reminded those present that there seemed a strong probability of this community being done up. A short time ago delegates from Fresno, Bakersfield and other places came to Los Angeles, and it seemed as if, things were about taking shape toward building a railroad north. San Francisco, as a result of that meeting, as it seemed, at once took the initiative and subscribed several million dollars. The speaker contended that it was not contemplated by the San Francisco people that their road should be built further south than Bakersfield, paralleling another road, but that a detour should be made to Phouche and on to Salt Lake, via Milford. He concluded by asking that a committee be appointed to go to Sacramento and push the matter to final issue.

Rev. Dr. Haskins of Antelope Valley humorously alluded to his memory being suirred by the present agitation. For over twenty years be had heard about this road to Salt Lake, had told him that there was absolutely no agricultural land or value to be had. Then in Salt Lake itself there are three companies laying plans for a road to this city. One company asserts boidly that it owns the only coal fields in Southern Utah, and so on Mr. Haskins argued that the matter now is largely one of de bill, and in such case the precedent established by Cincinnati became of importance here. In 1889 the General Assembly of Ohio passed an act providing for the building of railroads by cities of more than 150,000 inhabitants, the Superior Court appointing five frustees. Cincinnati saw fit to build under the terms of that act and carried the line of road outside the boundaries of the State into Tennessee. That seemed an unwarrantable stretch of power, and a man named Walker sought out an injunction. Upon coming into court the action of the city was sustained, it being held that the railroad was being built by no partnership of private individuals; that it was no loaning of credit, but that when built the road would be the actual property of the city. In a subsequent case, however, the speaker conceded that the court had shown signs of backing down from the stand originally taken, abet the question involved was altogether distinct from the previous one.

originally taken, albeit the question involved was altogether distinct from the previous one.

"There are three ways to build a railroad," said Mr. Finlayson; "first, to regard it as a private enterprise; second, by private individuals with governmental assistance, it lending its credit—a mode that has proven disastrous on the Pacific Coast—and by public enterprise. I, myself, am opposed to unnecessary expense, but we bond ourselves to build a courthouse, and why then not bond ourselves to build a railroad? If built by private individuals dividends have to be paid and we are taxed to pay them, and this not considering that most of such stock is watered. Even admitting that some corruption may exist in the administration of a road built on the plan proposed, the monetary loss would be less than the constant drain in the shape of taxation by excessive charges made to meet the necessities of a road built by private effort.

"Next Tuesday will be the fittieth day the Legislature has been in session, and no bill can then be considered save on a two-thirds vote. This affords a chance for successful opposition to the measure. One way out of the difficulty is to substitute this bill for the Mathews bill in committee, if the co-operation of Senator Mathews can be obtained, and then it will come up for consideration in the ordinary course. But even them it may be difficult to insure its passage unless there is a strong public sentiment in its favor. As an alternative every effort ought to be made to obtain the passage of the Mathews bill and then the line can be built to the county line, and an amendment introduced in the next Legislature which would permit the extension of the road if other counties were unwilling to oc-operate and do their share of the work."

Mr. Marble arose for a moment to explain that the bill drafted applied to only Legislature which would permit the extension of the road if other counties were unwilling to co-operate and do their chare of the work."

Mr. Marble arose for a moment to explain that the bill drafted applied to only two counties. A general bill affected so many interests that discussion always ensued in the Legislature, but it is customary, both in the Senate and Assembly, for members having no direct interest in a measure to give it support, and have the compliment returned in kind. This courtesy would permit the rapid engineering of the bill through the Legislature.

Mayor Rader was about to put the Matter to a vote when a dissentient voice was heard. G. J. Griffith stated that he might be considered a crank, but he had a poor opinion of politicians, and so he favoned a competitive road. Not very long ago they might have had a road in Los Angeles for a subsidy of $300,000, and he would be willing to join 100 others in subscribing $1000, and thus form a $100,000 nucleous for such a subsidy to any competitive line that would build to this city. He concluded by saying that a competitive railroad would be better, in his opinion, than a road built by machine politicians.

His words threatened to raise a storm. The inference was too plain to be mistaken. Capt. Cross was on his feet on the instant. "I'll challenge any man," said he, "to prove that in the closest political contest ever one word was uttered impunging the management of the Cincinnational Nay, I'll subsidize the gentleman," looking straightly at Mr. Griffith, "with $1000 if he raises $50,000 towards a subsidy in this city, and I'll give him two weeks to do it in."

Mr. Marble threw oil on the troubled waters. He urged that to float any bonds but county or municipal ones at the present time would be extremely difficuit.

Mr. Longley then submitted the following resolutions:

"Resolved, that this meeting indorse what is known as the Cincinnati plan as a means for the construction of a line of ent time would be extremely difficult.

Mr. Longley then submitted the following resolutions:

"Resolved, that this meeting indorse what is known as the Cincinnati plan as a means for the construction of a line of railroad between Los Angeles and Salt Lake as the most feasible method of constructing such road.

"Resolved, that a committee of five citizens of Los Angeles be selected by this meeting, who, in connection with the chairman of the meeting, shall appoint from among the citizens of Los Angeles a committee of twenty who shall without delay proceed to Sacramento and lay before the Legislature the action of this meeting and use all honorable means to secure the passage by the Legislature of a law incorporating the aforesaid plan."

These resolutions having been put to a rising vote, they were carried with one dissentient. Mr. Griffith was brave, but lonely. An additional resolution was then adopted that the work of the Sacramento committee be sustained by a petition of 2000 citizens.

The chairman then appointed Messrs.

O citizens.

The chairman then appointed Messrs. Cross, Marble, Workman, Longley and Finlayson, with himself as chairman, as a committee to select the larger committee of twenty to procede to Sacramento. This having been done the meeting adjourned.

LEGISLATIVE PETITION. To the Honorable, the Members of the mate and Assembly of the State of Cali-

We, the undersigned, residents of the county of Los Angeles, do hereby respectfully pelition you to exert every honorable effort to secure the passage of a bill authorizing and enacting courtles to build railroads upon the basis of the plan known as the Cincinnati plan, as unanimously adopted at a public meeting held. at the Chamber of Commerce February 22, 1895.

This-petition will be circulated throughout the city, in order that as many names in excess of the determined 200, may be obtained as possible. On Monday the following committee will carry it to Sacarmento, and take what steps may be considered necessary to insure the passage of the bill, the draft of which has already been published: ounty of Los Angeles, do hereby respect-of the bill, the draft of which has already been published:

THEIR PAY MISSING.

Employees of the "King Solomon" Company Strike.

There was in interruption in the presen-tation of "King Solomon" at the Los An-geles Theater last night, and the enter-geles Theater last night, and the entertainment was completed in abbreviated form. Fifteen of the persons taking part in the play struck after the first act becaused they had not received the pay claimed to be due them.

According to the statements of those who quit work they were employed two or three weeks ago to take part in the play and have since been rehearing their parts. They stated they were hired by Mr. Blum and Mrs. Legriscon, and after the first presentation on Thursday night were promised their pay yesterday afternoon. Upon calling for it at that time they were told they could have it last night.

After the first act last night the money was not forthcoming and they refused to appear. There was a long delay in the raising of the curtain, but finally the performance was concluded without their assistance, although, of course, not in complete form.

THE EVANGELISTS.

love is limited by the soul's partial obodicace."

There was a good attendance at the evening service, and the greatest interest was manifested in the subject presented for the evening's discourse.

Mr. Pratt took his text from a clause of the fourth verse of the one hundred and forty-second Psalm: "No man cared for my soul."

He said: "Laura Bridgeman was asked at one time, 'What is the soul?" and she wrote on her tablet, 'It is 'that which aches. There is no agony like soul-agony, and the soul here cries, 'No man cared for my soul.' There are many organizations which cares for men's bodies, but one which cares for men's bodies, but one which cares for men's soul, the church of Christ. The word teaches that the sinner is jost without Christ, and if we really believe that, we must needs show it by out deep concern for those who are yet in their sins. Concern in the Christian leads to concern in the heart of the one not a Christian."

The services closed with a very impressive prayer service, preceded by many requesting prayer for friends. The evangelist has planned for a full day of service for Sunday.

A SUCCESSFUL REVIVAL.

A SUCCESSFUL REVIVAL.

Another large and attentive audience filled the First Christian Church last night, and listened to a masterly sermon from Evangelist MacLane, upon the "Gospel as the Power of God," Romans i, 16. The following extracts were made from it: Christ gave to His apostles a command to go into the world and preach the gospel. No man has ever been divinely commissioned to preach anything else; it is the power of God unto salvation to all them that believe. Through the gospel nations have been exalted, and individual lives have been lifted up to higher planes of existence. Ambitions and desires have been directed to nobler and purer aims. The impure have been made pure, the drunkard has been made glad by God's love. The orphan, the widow, the aged and infirm have been cared for, the savage has been civilized and made gentle by its benign influence. It is the same power tonight, and it is the only thing in this dife that can satisfy a hungry human heart. A tender and loving cry comes to us through the gospel of Jesus Christ. "Come unto Me and I will give you rest." The sermon was interesting, efoquent and tender, and was given the closest attention from beginning to close.

The song service is greatly improved under the excellent leadership of Prof. A SUCCESSFUL REVIVAL.

The song service is greatly improved under the excellent leadership of Prof. Colyer, who has a magnificent voice and is an excellent leader. There will be no services tonight, but services or Sunday at 11 a.m. and 3 and 7:30 p.m. The 3 o'clock service will be an address on the "Dencers from the Church of Rome; or, at 11 a.m. and 3 and 7:30 p.m. The 3 o'clock service will be an address on the 'Dangers from the Church of Rome; or, Romanism vs. Americanism.'

PACIFIC GOSPEL UNION.

Rev. E. E. P. Abbott of Sierra Madre gave a delightful address at the all-day meeting, on "Christlikeness." The need of the church today, he said, is unity in Christian character and more of the Christ life every day. Marco Hellman's Wounds Prove to

During Thursday night the condition of Marco Hellman, the youth who shot him-self with suicidal intent in the Tufts-Lyons Company's store on Tuesday afternoon, changed for the worse to such an extent that it soon became apparent that his death was only a question of a few

The attending physicians did everything in their power for their patient, but in spite of their efforts he gradually sank lower and lower, until all hope was aband oned early yesterday morning.

The friends and relatives of the young man had frequently importuned the doctors to consent to his being removed from the Receiving Hospital, but not until it was evident that he was dying, was the request granted, it being feared that the sact of moving him would precipitate a collapse.

He was accordingly placed. The attending physicians did everything

He was accordingly placed upon a stretcher and conveyed by four policemen to the residence of Sam Hellman on South Broadway, at noon, but about two hours later he died.

The body of young Hellman was removed to the undertaking establishment of C. D. Howry, where an inquest was held by Coroner Campbell at 8:30 o'clock last night.

The Meeting Held Last Evening at Simpson Church.

A largely-attended meeting was held at Simpson Methodist Episcopal Church last night, under the suspices of the advisory-board of the American Protective Association, in commemoration of Washington's birthday. Two or three of the speakers, in the course of their remarks, assailed the Roman Catholic church, arguing that it is hostile to American institutions. Such statements, however, were not openly resented by people in the au

Among them-Fruitcura-her great and wonderful tonic for curing all female ailments and building up the system. Fruitcura restores all weak organs to perfect health. It cures the many complaints of women that only women knew of. It restores the vitality, makes the eyes bright, the step elastic, and brings the bloom of health to the faded cheek. It renews the nerve tone and makes the flesh firm, hard and velvety. In fact, its use is the royal road to perfect health and beautiful womanhood. It cures their complaints and nervous troubles of any nature, and revives the vitality, which is lacking in all such cases for women of all ages. A favor of the following officers for the ensuing year, who were elected unanimously:

President, Dr. Coffin of Whittier; recording secretary, Miss Minnle E. Ross of Pomona; vice-president, Miss Elsie Bosbyshell of Los Angeles; treasurer, J. Moyse of Rivera; junior superintendent, Will Spencer of Los Angeles.

Rev. Burt Estes Howard addressed the convention on "Good Citizenship," pointing out and severely scoring political and social perversion, laying all blame at the door of public sentiment.

Following this address, the proposition of bringing the International Christian Endeavor convention to Los Angeles in 1897, came up for discussion. Rev. Mr. Howard, Rev. George C. Dye and Willard Ball presented various phases of the matter, which, if brought to a successful issue, will be of vast importance to the city, bringing from all parts of the United States thousands of young Christian people.

NIGHT SESSION.

NIGHT SESSION.

The night service was held at the Second Presbyterian Church. Many of the Endeavorers having left for their homes outside the city, the attendance was not so large as was expected.

After singing, a call was made for "the sinews of war." in the shape of finances, and a fair amount was pledged to meet expenses.

After the singing of "Pass Me Not, Oh, Gentle Savior," Rev. W. F. Day was introduced and delivered a stirring address on "The Reason of the Y.P.S.C.E." The convention was brought to a close with a conservation service, led by Dr. J. T. Price.

The decorations at the Baptist Church

The decorations at the Baptist Church were very neat.
The orchestra at the Presbyterian Church added much to the night service.
"Los Angeles '97" created a whirlwind of enthusiasm.
Many of the pastors were conspicuous by their absence.
Bert Estes Howard is worthily popular with Endeavorers. His address on "Good Cittzenship," was received with great spplause.

College Athletes Compete at Athletic Park.

mans Win the Much-coveted Trophy from the Occi-dentals.

Lots of Enthusiasm Displayed by the Collegians—Details of the Vari-ous Events—Fast Time and Exciting Contests.

Every intercollegiate record but one was broken at Athletic Park yesterday, and the Intercollegiate Athletic Association is congratulating itself over the splendid progress it has made. If each annual held day improves the standard at the present rate, Southern California will be prepared to compete with the crack teams from the northern colleges before many more have come and gone.

The weather was splendid yesterday, and no fault could be found with the Athletic Park grounds. The heat of the sun was tempered by a gentle breeze, and the presence of family and friends encouraged the athletes to deeds of might and "derring do." A great crowd jammed the bleachers and kindergarten, and the "kids" filled in the nobles and crannies near the ropes. Fond parents leaned over to watch the sports; classmates and sweethourts gasped or yedled as contestants falled or won, and friends and alumni of the colleges swelted the number.

The University of Southern California was most fully represented, and her tright-red colors were everywhere. A young man with a banner on a long bamboo pole kept frantic time to the "Rah! Rah!" whenever her champtons won a play, and lusty lungs and the horns completed the din as the dag dipped and rose. A six-foot fish horn roared behind it, and a bass drum accompanied a smare drum to grind out college nuisel. Pomona had the next largest contingent, but what was lacking in members they made up in enthuslessen. Her colors—blue and white—were scattered all through the crowd, but a little knot, gathered high up in the grandstand "made Rome how!" with their yell whenever it could be sandwiched in.

The other colleges also had numerous followings, but they were too scattered to make much of a showing. Occidental's black and gold was more in evidence, but Chaffey's olive and gold showed to better advantage.

Numerous other people endeavored to run the affair, and despite repeated squelchings and snubs for their officiousness, could not be kept off the field. However, this provincial evil is rapidly becoming less, and it is thought that next year it will be stopped entirely. THE 100-YARD RUN.

THE 100-YARD RUN.

A great howl went up when the first event was called and four lightly-clad, spike-shoed and springy-limbed sprinters trotted out on the field to contest for the 100-yard run. F. L. Fairbanks ran for Occidental. F. Nance for Pomona, H. M. Seely for U.S.C., C. G. Toland for Chaffey. Nance got the lead and maintained it to the tape in 10% sec., closely followed by Seely, Toland and Fairbanks in the order named. Nance broke the old I.C.A.A. record of 10 4-5 sec. made last year by Mueller of Occidental, and was cheered to the echo for the gallant run he made and for scoring a first victory for Pomona.

THE HAMMER THROW.

THE HAMMER THROW. The sixteen-pound hammer throw was, won by Carver of U.S.C. The contestants won by Carver of U.S.C. The contestants were W. H. Ramsaur for Occidental, L. M. Tolman for Pomona, Charles Carver for U.S.C. and Guy E. Ap Lynn for Chaffey. Ap Lynn is a giant in strength, and in practice has thrown the hammer 100 feet, but yesterday he fell down on his past records and scored the least. The other men threw well, as the score shows, but Carver threw a final 90 feet 7½ inches and won, breaking Charles Hall's (Chaffey) last year's record of 76 feet, and being carried from the field on his friends shoulders. Tolman was next with a throw of 82 feet, Ramsaur made 80 feet, and Ap Lynn made 65 feet.

FIFTY-YARD RUN.

FIFTY-YARD RUN. The fifty-yard dash was contested by W. . Edwards for Occidental, I. L. Whitney A. Edwards for Occidental, I. L. Whithey for Pomona, Chester A. Robinson for U. S. C., and C. G. Toland for Chaffey. The finish was very close, and Robinson was first, with Whitney at his elbow and Toland and Edwards hot on their heels. The winning time was put at 5 1-5 sec., but to ease down such professional time it is well to say that the course was accidentally measured eighteen feet short. Last year's record of 5 4-5 sec. was held by Nance of Pomona. Robinson got an ovation, but Pomona's trainer, Van Leuven, entered a protest against the victory being awarded to U.S.C.

TWO-MILE BICYCLE RACE.

The two-mile bicycle race was very slow, the wheelmen merely loafing around the first seven laps. On the last E. H. Smith of Pomona dashed ahead in the home stretch, and sailed aeross the scratch easy winner, followed by George Dorman, Occidental; H. L. Martin, U.S.C., and Dennis Hearn, Chaffey. The shockingly poor time of 6:30 was made.

THE MILE RUN.

THE MILE RUN.

The fifth event was a mile run, in which were entered L. E. Lynn for Occidental, H. M. Voorhees for Pomona, Elmer E. Elliott for U.S.C., and Andrew Noble for Chaffey. The men trotted around the track very complacently to the great discust of the crowd, but in the last lap essayed a spurt of speed that placed Elliott well in front, so that he won the race in 4:54, followed successively by Voorhees, Lynn and Noble.

THE POLE VAULT. The pole vaulting was a star feature of the games, and much of the enthusiasm was made manifest. Hardy of U.S.C. fell out early in the jump at 8 feet, and A. E. Bell of Occidental, holding last year's record of 9 feet 2 inches, fell out at 9 feet 3 inches. T. C. Knoles of Chaffey stayed in with H. Sloan of Pomona until 9 feet 7 inches was reached, on which he failed, and Sloan won after two trials. When it was announced that Sloan of Pomona had won at 9 feet 7 inches the wildly excited Pomona rooters sent up one great howl of delight, and amid relis and cheers of pride, he was shouldered by his comrades and carried to his dressling-room. The sontest all through had been in tennesly interesting. When Hardy had knocked down the bar the third time the U.S.C. crimson flag had been lowered amid the deristive howls of its rivals. When Bell, on whom so much store was placed, had struck the ground and swallowed his pride, the Occidental colors were carried trailing from the field, and a pandemonium of cheering ensued that is indescribable. The racket was kept up continuously—tin brons, drums and trumpiets were called into play when voices gave out, and everybody tingled with enthusiasm, laughed and were happy, just because the boys were fighting for the college, and were doing it manfully. The old war-horses on the front rows arrest the smoke of the time that the first part of Yaile or Harvard, got up and executed an ancient "Rah! rah! rah!" that "that was a stay of the loss of dignity involved.

THE 220-YARD RUN. The annual county convention of the Y.P.S.C.E. convened at the East Los Angeles Baptist Church yesterday at 9 a.m. There was a large attendance. President S. M. Allen called the meeting to order, and after song service, led by Dr. Price, and prayer by Rev. Mr. Dinsmore, the convention proceeded to business.

The following committees were appointed: Nominating Committee, Dr. J. T. Price, Mrs. Johnson, A. E. Ingram, Mr. Tibbetts and Mrs. Hall; Committee on Resolutions, J. T. Van Wyck, J. D. Habbick and Rev. D. Lloyd Jenkins.

The recording secretary offered the following report: "The Y.P.S.C.E. societies of Los Angeles county number at present 67; an increase of 12 during the year. Active membership, 2095; associate, 369; honorary, 168, showing an increase of 41 active, 183 associate, and 76 honorary. To show that our societies have been active we find that 259 out of our membership have been received into the church during the year. As a rule the pledge is well kept."

Mrs. Charles E. Miles of Pasadena read an excellent paper on. "Fruits of the True Christian," and Mr. Fulton of Pasadena read an paper on the same topic.

I. C. Guy took charge of the singing at this point, and the congregation sang "Work for Time is Flying."

A question box was opened by Prof. C. E. Tibbetts, and many interesting questions were answered.

Mrs. H. A. Newell read an inspiring paper on "Foreign Missions." The paper was followed by three-minute papers by William T. Skelling, Miss E. D. Stowell, Miss A. J. Harris, Roy Reppy and Miss Elsie Palmer.

The hwyn, "Preach the Gospel," was sung by the congregation, after which delegates a sealed the paper which delegates a sealed to paper on the same topic.

THE 220-YARD RUN.

The 220-yard run was made by W. A.
Edwards for Occidental, F. Nance for Pomona, H. M. Scely for University of Southern Caffornia, and W. J. Cutter for Chaffey.
Seely won R in 23:45, beating Nance's

THE MILE WALK.

THE MILE WALK.

The mile walk (part run) was entered by E. H. Maller for Occidental, J. R. Bent for Pomona, W. C. Twiss for University of Southern California, and F. B. Braden for Chaffey. Twiss led up to the homestretch, and there was overtaken by Bent. Within a few yards of the tape Twiss fell in the track and crawled across the line third, where he could have easily been a winner. The race was awarded to J. R. Bent under probest, and the time was fixed at 7:49. Miller was second, Twiss was sibird and Braden fourth.

Twiss was carried to the shade of the gramdstand, and there was restored to consolousness from his faint and exhausted state.

state.

The last year's record for a mile walk was held by Oliver, University of Southern California, at 8:12.

The running high-jump was won by I.
L. Whitney of Pomona at 5 feet 5½ inches.
Neate Murray of Occidental and C. G.
Toland of Chaffey shared second place, while Philo Jones of University of Southern California was last. The score was as follows:

Chaffey's olive and gold showed to better advantage.

A tally-ho gasily bedecked with Pomona colors and full of enthusiastic Pomona "rooters" drove in at the south gate, and announced its presence by a flourish of trumpets and a "Rah! Reh Rah! Zipi Boom! Ah! Yiva La! Yiva La! Yiva La! Yiva La! Yiva La! Pro-uno-na!"

That brought a roar of cheers from the numbers of Pomonans already on the field. Large and small carriages, buggles, carts, horses and bicycles ranged around the boundary lines six deep. A Woodbury College taily-ho brought in a gay crowd of young men. The laddes, who made upnearly half the whole crowd, were not much less enthusiastic than their escorts. Numbers of teachers and professors were as proud of their men as the most rabid undercollegiate.

A 440-yard dash was the last event, and was done handsomely by A. E. Dilwarth, for Occidentals, L. M. Tolman for Pomora, Elmer E. Elliott for U. S. C., and W. J. Cutter for Chaffey.

Bilhott won it well in advance, making the run in 53 1-5 seconds, beating Mueller's (Occidental) last year's record of 56 2-5 seconds.

The great crowd cheered again and again and streamed back townward to prepare for the evening's presentations and entertainment.

Out of the eleven events Pomona won the first, 100-yard run; the third, two-mile bleycle race; the sixth, pole vault; the eighth, one-mile walk, and the ninth, the high jump; taking five medals.

The U. S. C. team also took five medals. For the second, 16-pound hammer threw; the fourth, 50-yard dash; the fifth, mile run; the seventh, 220-yard run, and the eleventh, the 440-yard dash.

Occidental got one redeeming medal for winning the tenth event on a fluke, the one-mile bleycle race.

It is believed that there will be no such trouble during the coming summer season in properly flushing the outfall sewer as there was last year. Mr. Derby, who is in charge of the outfall, said to a Times reporter yesterday that the large number of house connections that have been made with sewers have caused such an increase in the volume of sewage that it will make a constant stream of so large a size as to practically do its own flushing.

Il will be remembered that last summer the flow of sewage in the outfall was so slight that it was frequently necessary to turn large quantities of water into it from the city zanjas in order to properly flush it. On numerous occasions it was, for some reason, impossible to obtain as much water for this purpose as was desirable, and the result was that at times the outfall was in bad condition.

no notion of the strain on the nerves that is inseparable from a dramatic career.

But members of "the profession" know what it is, and they have, as a body, learned how best to keep their nervous systems strong and capable of doing the hard work demanded of them. That is why Paine's celery compound is so popular on the stage.

Helen Barry, the well-known actress, writes to a physician friend, from Tea Box Cottage, Relifort:

Della Fox, when "run down" from over-work, by the advice of the wife of a United States Senator in Washington tried Paine's celery compound. She says: "My spirits picked up, and at the end of two weeks the same old exuberant health with which nature blessed me had returned.

"I ate and slept as I had not done since I was a child, and I have never known since then an hour's theoryentence from paryons prostration.

"The medicine to which I owe so much is "The medicine to which I owe so much is Paine's celery compound, and I have recommended it to all of my stage acquaintances who have overtaxed their brains by too close attention to study, and all have experienced the same happy results as myself."

ful reinvigorating power of Paine's celery compound. Their testimony is noteworthy, because no class of women work harder or are under greater nervous strein.

Women in every walk of life have reason to be greatful to Prof. Phelps of Dartmouth, who discovered Paine's celery compound. He understood the peculiar weakness of the sex. He knew that the backache, lassitude, headache, sleeplossness and loss of appetite ell mean that the supply of nervous force is low and inadequate to the demands upon it. The experience of thousands has taught the women of the country that only Paine's celery compound will give health to the nerves, sud, through them, to the entire body.

Crops and Markets.

The weather has been as near perfect as it could be during the past week, and farmers of Southern California have n busy. Pasture is coming up firely. and it will not be many weeks before there is a little hay to cut. Meantime the price of hay keeps up in a remarkable ner, considering that feed is growing st. The lowest price quoted for hay of any kind is about $12 per ton, which is for second-class alfalfa hay, while firstclass oat hay cannot be bought for les $17 per ton. It is not at all likely that these prices can be maintained much longer. Meantime the crop that has been sown will give Southern California a larger supply of hay than there has ever een in this section before.

The demand for oranges has been steady and good at satisfactory prices. The exthey established at the start. Naturally some of the growers object, considering that they should be allowed to make a little more out of such a favorable season as this which has occurred so m of late. A few of the growers have been trying to kick over the traces and the exchange. At Riverside a few days ago a case was tried, which was ght by the Riverside Fruit Exchange against a grower who signed exchange contracts to compel him to ship his fruit up to date where a subscriber has left the erside Exchange, and the result of the trial is looked for with much interest.

The dairy market has been quiet but steady, with a plentiful supply of ordibutter and a good demand for that of first-class quality. Eggs are still selling at from 12 to 13 cents, and a few sales This rapid drop of nearly 50 per cent. within ten days illustrates the great changes which take place in the price of Southern California produce within a short period, causing dealings in such produce to partake to some extent of the

The outlook for honey is excellent, but prices at present are very low. Referring to the outlook for California honey in the an market, Eugene Germain, the United States Consul at Zurich, Switzerland, writes as follows:

"Honey can be bought free on board in California, on an average, at from 5 to 6 cents per pound for extracted, and 8 to 10 cents per pound for comb in one-pound frames. This products is usually a drug in Southern California and can hardly be moved Extracted honey retails in Switmoved. Extracted honey retails in Swit-serland at 30 cents per pound, and comb at 50 cents. Most of the extracted honey sold here is granulated, and must be melted if wanted in liquid state. While oney is on the breakfast table of every otel and restaurant, and those whose ceans permit them to purchase the artipoor people, or even the micuse it but sparingly, prices be too high, but if sold retail at say 15 cents extracted and 25 cents for comb, great would be consumed and replace to some extent. The freight or The freight on honey from the United States by rail to seaboard, steamer to European ports, thence by rail to Switzerland, inclusive of custom duties, will not exceed 3 cents per pound. Give our American apiarist a living price of 7 cents a pound for extracted honey, and it would cost dealers here 10 cents. If sold at 15 cents per pound to consumers it will leave a margin of 50 per cent, to be divided among dealers. Honey can be placed here much cheaper if shipped by sailing vessel via Cape Horn; the freight rate and custom duties will then not exceed 2 cents per pound.

"I may add these arguments will apply not only to Switzerland, but the same results can be obtained all over Europe."

Age of Orange Trees.

There has been much discussion among American horticulturists the past few years concerning the extreme age at which orange trees will bear well and produce Some maintain that an oronge tree, no matter how much care is after it has reached half a century of growth. Others have argued that about reventy-five years is the limit of usefulness of a well-cared-for orange tree. Several American horticulturists, who have been traveling along the Mediterranean Sea, have recently found trees over 120 years old that are still producing fruit of excelold that are still producing fruit of excel-lent quality. On the Island of Elba, where Napoleon was banished, there is an orange grove of over seven hundred St. Michael trees that was planted by an Italian in 1781, and it produced last year over eighteen hundred boxes of fruit, but it produced four times that quantity twenty-five years ago. There are several small orange orchards in Southern Italy that are over 80 years old, and are still rge quantities of fruit. Maita, James Pellman, On the Islan. the famous A can horticulturist, found one orange that there can be no doubt is 142 are old, and that yielded several boxes of fruit last year. It is orange and lemon trees over 200 years old that still bear fruit, but there is no good authority for the allegation.

The Peanut.

The peanut is produced in considerable quantities in various portions of California, there being no one locality in which it can be said to be more at home than another. A light, sandy soil, with a moderate amount of moisture, is the ideal moderate amount of moisture, is the ideal spot for this valuable nut, and the large obtained under proper conditions ought to be an encouragement for a large extension of this industry.

Because of many recent erroneous state-ments made upon the proper method of planting peanuts, it is worth while giving directions based upon actual The soil, as already stated, sperience. The son, as an arready should be of a sandy character, and it should be plowed deeply and brought into should be plowed deeply and brought into fine tilth as possible. Rows should drilled far enough apart to allow the passage of a horse and cultivator. The best manner of preparing the nuts for planting is to shell them, and then soak them up in lukewarm water until they sprout. If they are planted in any other way, many will not grow, and the result with a light layer of earth. When The soil between the vines must be kep well worked, so as to allow the roots from the stalk to penetrate easily and form nuts. The operation is sometimes assisted by covering the ends of the stalks with loose earth, but the natural way is for soil. When mature, the nuts are gathered by plowing a furrow down one side of the rows, which lossens the soil so that the vines may be gathered up with the nuts adhering to them, and stacked away to dry, prior to having the nuts removed which is done by various crude devices though in the peanut-growing sections of the Southern States a machine has been ormance of this task.

The prices paid for peanuts are sufficient to allow a very satisfactory margin for profit, and, as the consumption in this state far exceeds the local product, there is no good reason why many should not engage in the pursuit, as the returns are both prompt and satisfactory.

A Los Angeles correspondent sends The Times the following letter received from Pike & Ellsworth, a firm of seedsmen and florists at Jassamine, Fla., which will be of interest to those who have been making inquiries in regard to this root:

inquiries in regard to this root:

"Replying to your favor of the 7th ult. The species of Cassava (Manihot Aipi) we offer is that known as the Sweet Cassava, and of the greatest value as a stock feed, also as a vegetable. The roots properly prepared take the place of Irish potatoes, and are also made into most delicious puddings and other dishes. The Cassava family consists of some eighty species all told, though this and one other sort are the only ones of particular value. The species you refer to as being poisonous is Manihot Utilissima, which is indeed poisonous, and very bitter. The Sweet Cassava is very largely grown in Florida and the root yield is remarkably abundant. The roots are allowed to remain in the ground until required, under which conditions they keep well, and are fed to hogs, cattle, chickens, horses, etc., and eaten with great avidity. If exposed to the atmosphere long after digging decomposition etc in.

"The usual method of growing this plant."

"The usual method of growing this plant is to take short cuttings of well-ripened cames and plant in hills in the spring and cultivate as corn or most any other farm crop. The severe freeze that swept over Florida the latter part of December destroyed all the seed cane we know of so that it cannot be supplied this spring, but next fall or winter we will be able to supply the cames at 2 cents per foot f.o.b. There are no poisonous clements, whatever, about the Sweet Cassava, neither does it require soaking in water, or any other preparation before using for feeding stock. usual method of growing this plant stock.

"In reply to your favor of January 27, we would say that the Cassava is not projected from seeds or root cuttings, but from the main stalk of the plant. This is cut off near the ground in the fall after the plant has made its growth, limbs are trimmed off and the stalks either planted plant has made its growth, limbs are trimmed off and the stalks either planted at once or buried in a trench until spring. Planting is done by furrowing off the ground and laying the stalks in it end for end and covering about four inches deep. If the ground is very rich the stalks may be cut in lengths of one foot and may be dropped a foot apart; rows should be five feet apart. As soon as the young plants show well in the rows cultivation should commence and continue until plants shade the ground well. The variety that is grown in Florida is Manihot Aipl, or Sweet Cassava and is not poisonous. M. Utilissima, Manioc or bitter Cassava of Brazil is poisonous in the raw state and for that reason is not grown here at all. M. Aipi will produce tons of roots to the acre, and these are much relished by all domestic animals, and, being rich in starch, they are very fattening.

"I'might add that Cassava seed canes are sold here at from $10 to $15 per 1000 feet."

It is comparatively few years since in sect pests were almost unknown in the orchards and fields of California, but during the past few years we seem to be getting even more than our fair share of these a climate which is so favorable to animals and human beings should also be favorable to the growth of insects, and so after they once get a hold in this State it is hard work, requiring constant vigilance, to dislodge them.

It is fortunate, however, for the State that we have so capable and vigilant an official as Quarantine Officer Craw, formerly of Los Angeles, at headquarters. Mr. Craw reports that San Francisco being deluged with pestiferous scales from foreign ports and that during the past month they have arrived in greater quantity and variety than ever before In a recent interview published in a San Francisco paper he says:

In a recent interview published in a San Francisco paper he says:

"The last steamer from Hawaii brought several species of orange scale which were promptly destroyed.

"I am informed that the British ship Millwall has arrived from Burmah with a cargo of rice infected with weevils and other smaller pests, and I will make an investigation at once. It is quite possible that there may be some dangerous insect pests on the vessel.

"Today I seized a number of young fruit trees on the steamer Peru that were pest-ridden with the draspis, a scale entirely new to this State, and a very dangerous species. Many of the diseased trees are coming from Japan. The Japanese are noted for their quaint flowers, dwarfed trees and shrubs, and lovers of plants visiting that country generally bring a collection on their return. This is a source of great danger, as such people use no care in selecting healthy plants.

Good Outlook for California Peaches It is not only the orange-growers of Southern California who are likely to be benefited by the misfortunes of their Battern brethren. The reports from several of the peach-growing sections be-yond the mountains are very unfavorable. From Michigan it is reported that the out-look for the future of peaches is very bad, the disease known as the yellows threatening to become so thoroughly dis-seminated throughout the majority of the seminated in any other way, many will not grow, and the result will be that the rows will be full of ugly to cut down every tree in order to stay the disease. Co-operation Among Farmers.

A number of Tulare-county farmers re cently held a meeting to discuss the sub-ject of planting new crops, in order to vary the agricultural resources of that section as much as possible. Referring to this subject, the Kern County Echo has to this subject, the Kern County Echo has the following sensible observations:

"If a dime were expended by the State in promoting such meetings to where dollars are now paid out for district fairs, our producers would be far better off. This idea of getting the farmers together once in a while to talk over farm operations is a most excellent one, and there never was a time when such gatherings could accomplish as much as at present. Produce of all kinds is low; it looks as though some kinds of farming or stockraising must be abandoned, and there is plenty of room for discussion as to what new crops or methods of farming should receive attention. What's the matter with having a farmer's day here?"

These remarks are very true. There

These remarks are very true. There the farmers. It is true that the farmers a like character, but the amount of good that is accomplished by these institutions is comparatively small. If the farmers, instead of growling so much about hard times and low prices for products, would come together more frequently and talk over practical plans for the relief of their situation, such as the varying crops above referred to, they would soon find them selves in a much better condition that they are at present. For instance, if the farmers of the United States would combine and agree to reduce the acreag before there would be considerable adaboring classes complain that they are badly treated, and go on a strike; rs complain the same way and don't but growl. Both classes seem to forget that they have it in their power to ramedy the ills of which they complain, in a legitimate manner, if they

Agricultural Experiment Stations. Following is a report on agricultural ex-periment stations, made by Hon. Amos Adams of San Jose to the State Grange at its Stockton meeting, but through some accident omitted in the published official record:

Fourteen years ago, by invitation of President Reid of the University at Berkeley, and Prof. Hilgard of the Agricultugal College, the chairman of this committee, together with Brothers H. M. Larue, Thomas McConnell, I. C. Steele and Sentence Ewer, visited the University of California to consult with the officers thereof with a view of enlarging the sphere of usefulness of the then infantile experiment garden connected with the agricultural college.

On reaching the university, we were taken in charge by President Reid, Prof. Hilgard, Secretary J. H. C. Bonte and our late Brother Klee, gardener. After a thorough examination of the grounds set apari regard to the advisability and necessit not only enlarging the present plant, not only enlarging the present plant, but, owing to the great diversity of soil, climate, etc., of establishing other experiment stations in this State.

At the conclusion of this informal discussion, Amos Adams presented a resolution, which was unanimously adopted, asking for an appropriation of $15,000 to aid in enlarging the present agricultural experiment station and to establish others in California.

in California.

Our efforts on this Coast soon attracted the attention and hearty co-operation of that stalwart champion of farmers' interests, Representative Hatch of Missouri, since whom no more able or willing friend has the farmer ever had in the halls of Compress.

chat stalwart champion of farmers' interests. Representative Hatch of Missouri, since whom no more able or willing friend has the farmer ever had in the halls of Congress.

When the present Secretary-of Agriculture omitted to provide by appropriation for the continuance of our experiment station, it was Representative Hatch who came to the rescue and had the usual appropriation inserted in the pending bill, thus saving our station from ruin and decay, and at the present writing the Californa experiment stations rank among the leading ones in the United States. And yet they are not in this State of the magnitude and usefulness they will ultimately attain, as their beneficial effects are more fully recognized by the farmer, for we are inclined to the opinion that there are a large number of farmers who are not fully aware that these stations are public institutions, supported by taxes, established primarily for the benefit of the working farmers, who have not the facilities or time to make tests of coil or of plant life suitable to the infinite variety of soils and climates existing in California. These stations are doing an immense amount of good in experiments carried on by the latest and most mproved methods, solving for the farmer what he cannot do for himself, and the results of these experiments are free to all farmers in the State. Seeds, plants, cuttings, etc., are also free and are cheerfully given out by the foreman of each station to applicants; and if there is a farmer in the State who does not receive some benefit from them, it is caused by a failure to apply for information or for seed and plants they may have for distribution.

At present there are five agricultural experiment stations under the supervision of Prof. Hilgard and a corps of able assistants, composed of Prof. El. J. Wickson, Prof. E. L. Greene, and two assistants, composed of Prof. El. J. Wickson, Prof. E. L. Greene, and two assistants, composed of Prof. El. J. Wickson, Prof. E. L. Greene, and two assistants of the better facilities a determines his success or failure through life.

The value of this information cannot be overestimated by the armers, as a correct knowledge of the coil he cultivates and the water used for irrigation often determines his success or failure through life.

Do the farmers of California generally avail themselves of the information given out so freely at the central station? If a farmer constantly has poor crops, he is either cultivating his lend to crops unsuited, or irrigating them with water that is poisonous to plant life. These points he can be set right on by sending samples of soil and water to Prof. Hilgard. But before doing so send to the professor for directions of how to send, etc.

There are four other stations. One is located near Jackson, Amador county, at an altitude of about two thousand feet above the ocean, too high for citrus, but well adapted to hardy deciduous fruits.

The second of the outlaying stations is situated near Tulare City, in the San Joaquin Valley.

The third of these stations is located on some of the poorest land in San Luis Obispo county, about three miles east of Paso Robles, on the oast side of the Salinas River.

The fourth is situated about equi-dia-

The fourth is situated about equi-distant from Chino, Pomona and Ontario, in the San Gabriel Valley. Its specialty is the propagation of semi-tropical fruits and plants.

the propagation of semi-tropical fruits and plants.

Then there are the two forestry stations, one at Santa Monica and the other mear Chino. Butte county.

By a special act of Congress still another station has been established, on Union Island in the San Joaquin River. Its specialty is the cultivation of rice, the sugar cane and sugar-beets on tide lands. Prof. Wickson, under whose immediate supervision these tests are being conducted, informs us that the plants are all growing well, and the only question undetermined is whether the frosts will cut the sugar cane and rice off before maturity.

cut the sugar cane and rice off before maturity.

In conclusion, what more can your committee add that will awaken the farmers of California to a greater appreciation of the advantages they may derive from our experiment stations, where experiments are constantly being made by experienced men, and successes and failures properly noted? For be it known that to the observant farmer the knowledge of the failure of fruits, operals or vegetables on similar soil to his own is of far greater value to him than the knowledge of success.

value to him than the knowledge of success.

It is time the average farmer should call a halt on the too common belief that the free use of muscle alone leads to success in farming, for in these later days science is coming to the aid of poor tired muscle and demands that the farmer should use more brains—more neience and less muscle—if he expects to prosper in his calling, and no better way can be devised than to avail himself of the information freely given at the agricultural stations.

Sugar in California. A report has been received at the Agricultural Department from Superintendent Wixom, in charge of the sugar experiment station on the Sacramento River, near Stockton, giving an account of the work at that station during the past year.

River, near Stockton, giving an account of the work at that station during the past year.

The crops experimented with were sugarcane, flax, rice and sugar beets. Superintendent Wixom states that nothing was planted until late in March, but in spite of the lateness of the season, sugarcane attained a height of seven feet, and the stooling of the stalks was remarkable, in one case over fifty being reported from single stalks. The cane was matured enough to serve as seed, but did not have a season of sufficient length to mature a large amount of sugar. If the cane had been planted earlier there would have been a good crop of seed. The sugar-beets, Superintendent Wixom states, made a splendid showing. The beets averaged about one and one-fourth pounds in weight, and contained over 14 per cent. of sugar. Prof. Wiley, who is in charge of the sugar experiment stations of the country, said that he was afraid that early frosts would prevent the raising of sugar-cane in the vicinity of the experiment station in California, but the results of last year have convined him that cane can be grown there as easily as in Louisiana, and with as much profit. Last year the first frost at the experiment station was on December 17, which was about a month later than was anticipated.

The flax which was planted the last of May made a fair orop. The rice which was planted was supposed to be upland rice and growing without irrigation. It proved to be the other variety, however, and not being irrigated, the crop was somewhat of a failure. Prof. Wiley states that the crop which will grow this year will furnish a large amount of seed, which can not only be used on the station, but distributed to neighboring farmers. In this way the industry will be encouraged in that section of the country, and if such crops can be successfully cultivated, as Prof. Wiley says they can, the raising of sugar cane, sugar beets and rice will soon supplant unprofitable farming, which has been carried on in this section for the past few years. He thinks that if this new industry is prosecuted with vigor, every prospect is favorable to the development of new agricultural interests in these valleys. It was intended to send a carload of seed from the station in Florida to the California station, but the late freeze destroyed all the Florida.

Prof. Wiley believes that the California station will soon be supplying the Florida station will soon be supplying the Florida station will soon be supplying the Florida station with seed.

Appended to the report of Superintendent Wixom is a letter from Mr. Center, Claus Spreckels' superintendent on the Hawalian Islands, who made a personal visit to this experiment station and was exceedingly pleased with the results that had been accomplished. He was much surprised at stools seven feet high and at the immense fertility of the soil of that region. He offered to get some seed from the Hawalian Islands of early maturing cane, which would, perhaps, give better results than the kind of seed now in use, and his offer was accepted. Prof. Wiley says that if this experiment farm does not develop a great augar industry in this part of California he will be very much surprised.

Distribution of Seeds.

Distribution of Seeds.

(Garden and Forest:) It is not worth while to restate here our often-expressed views on the subject of the distribution of seeds as it has been conducted for years by the Federal Department of Agriculture. We are glad to know that the matter was brought before the Massachusetts Horticultural Society last month, and, on the motion of the Hon. Joseph R. Leeson, seconded by Francis H. Appleton, Esq., the following resolution was unanimously adopted, and copies forwarded to the officials named in it. It is to be hoped that agricultural societies which are now having their annual meetings will express their views in a similar way, and give the authorities at Washington to understand that the people of the country are cired of this abuse and intend to have it abolished:

"Whereas, more than half a century ago improved varieties of seed were sent out by the official then in charge of that work at Washington, to farmers and gardeners of the country, in order that such seeds might be tested and their practical value ascertained, either over others already in use, or as to their value for introduction of the country, in order that such seeds might be tested and their practical value ascertained, either over others already in use, or as to their value for introduction and cultivation; and, whereas, we recognize that the present distribution of seeds from the Department of Agriculture does not meet the original intention as herein indicated, and this gradule of urreasonable dimensions (and has become unit indicated, and this gradule of urreasonable dimensions (and has become unit indicated, and this gradule of urrealistic of the unwilling to use,) the cost of such distribution in 1833 having been $160,000. "We the members of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, assembled by our representatives in our hall at Boston, respectfully recommend to the Congress of the United States that the present method of, and appropriation for, the distribution of seeds be abolished; and that in its stead an appropriation be made of sufficient amount ($35,000 suggested,) by which the Department of Agriculture can distribute to

The Honey Crop of California.

(California Fruit Grower:) Exact figures of the 1894 honey crop in this State are not yet available, but it is known to have been very light. Extremely dry weather in the southern part of the State where most California honey is produced, almost wholly checked the growth of flowers during the honey season, hence little was gathered. Not only this; the soarcity of bee-food proved fatal to probably half of the swarms in the southern section of the State, thus crippling the industry for the coming year at least, perhaps longer. Some 3000 persons are engaged in apleuture in California, and under normal conditions the output of honey is large. The crop of 1893 was estimated at seven million pounds, and a crop of nine million pounds, and a crop of none season in this State. No State ranks with California in the production of honey, and few have the power to do so at any time in the future. It is generally a question of seasonable rainfall with us. Whonever properly moistened, our mountain slopes and mesabring forth abundance of bee pasturage and hence afford means for a honey crop limited only by the means at hand for gathering the nectar of the flowers.

Among the most valuable acquisitions to apiculture in this State is the advent of Prof. A. J. Cook, late of the University of Michigan. Prof. Cook, now of Claremont College in Los Angeles county, takes a deep interest in all features of apiculture and has already proven of groat advantage to the industry by his labors toward placing it upon a more scientific basis and thus greatly elevating and stimulating this pleasant and generally profitable pursuit.

(American Cultivator) Many plants

oil from Sunflowers.

(American Cultivator:) Many plants that are easily grown in this country are made very profitable in parks of Europe by converting their seed, stalks or leaves into oil. One of the commonest plants in this country that can be used in this way is the sunflower, from which an oil is extracted that is more valuable for lubricating fine machinery, and for use in the fine arts, than that made from any other plant. The demand for the oil of sunflower is rapidly increasing, and the fact that most of this oil is imported from Europe shows how much a profitable industry has been neglected in this country. The sunflower plant can be made a valuable crop when the mystery of extracting the oil from the seeds is understood by growers. In places where firewood is giving out the stalks of the crop make excellent fuel, and in Europe and Asia the stalks are thus used very generally. Moreover, after the oil is extracted from the seeds, the pressed cake makes good fattening food for animals. In this country seeds of the sunflower are used for feeding chickens, and that is about the only use to which the plants are put. Analysis shows that the seeds contain excellent food compositions, making a well-balanced ration for poultry or animals. If the seeds could be prepared for feeding by cooking and mixing with grain, our cows would relish this diet as much as the chickens.

There are two varieties of this plant, the mammoth and the small-seeded kind, the latter being the richer in oil, and better adapted for culture in this respect. The large-seeded kind is better for feeding alone, as it produces more leaves and seeds, and in Russia and Asia the seeds are used for eating, similar to our peanuts. Sunflower-seed cake is a common article of diet among the poor peasants of Asia.

In the southern provinces of Russia large fields are planted with the sunflower plants, and most of the sunflower is superior to our cottonsseed oil, and thas, in some places superseded the use of the fine Spanish and Italian olive oils fo ter animal food is very pressing, the sunflower will prove a most profitable crop. In the first place, the art of extracting the oil is neither expensive nor difficult to learn, and there is always a fair market for it.

The cultivation is very simple. Sunflowers need soil with plenty of potash in it, and if this manure is supplied the plants will thrive all right. The seeds are planted the same as corn, and cultivated in the same way. The heads must be gathered when ripe, and the leaves be stripped off, but the stalks can be left standing until needed for firewood. If the wood is not needed, burn the stalks on the field, and they return to the soil the potash needed for the next crop.

Sugar beets are worth more to feed to cows for milk and butter than the prices which the sugar-beet factories offer for them for making sugar. So it is not nec that a farmer should be located near a beet-root sugar factory in order to make beet-growing pay.

CHEESE.

Nearly All "Imported" Cheese Made in America.

From a long article in the New York Sun, describing the processes for making foreign styles of cheese a correspondent sifts out the following interesting facts: The New York Sun has been looking into the manufacture of foreign cheese in New York State—or rather the making of domestic cheese after foreign meth-ods—and finds that so excellent is the

of domestic cheese after foreign methods—and finds that so excellent is the product that importations of foreign cheese have greatly diminished, many of the imitations being preferred to the original brands. Roquefort is the only-French cheese which has not as yet been successfully imitated. Swiss cheese also has a flavor; due to its pasturage, which is hard to imitate. Under the McKinley bill there was a duty of 6 cents a pound on imported cheese, which did much toward fostering the native industry. Under the Wilson bill the duty is 4 cents. The principal fancy-cheese factory is at Antwerp, Jefferson county. It turns out over 200,000 fancy cheeses yearly. Charles Baumert, the manager, learned the various methods abroad.

Fresh or soft cheese, like Neufchatel, is made from sweet milk which stands gwenty-four hours in four-gallon cans immersed in water 60 deg., rennet, of course, being added. The curd is placed in linen bags and the whey drains off, assisted after a time by pressure. Then the curd is slightly saited, run through a cutting machine, then through one which turns it out in cylindrical form for packing in throfoil. These cylinders are packed and shipped the same day, and will keep for a week. Italian cream cheese is made in the same way, from cream alone, except that the curd is handled more carefulty and made into bricks. These need to be kept on ice. De Brie and D'Isigny, which are almost identical, are made from curd which stands only four hours, the first into cakes fourteen inches in diameter. The cut curd is dipped into tin furgs standing on cane mats through which the whey drains. The corrugated appearance of a Brie cheese is due to these mats. The curding process takes two months in cellars rind though esteemed by Europaans, is removed for the American market. This cheese can be kept for a month or more. Camembert, the most esteemed of French cheeses, is made in the same way, cream being added to the mclk, the cheese cured more slowly, turned oftener and salted less. The German Schloss, or Wiener, is a cross between Camembert and Limburger, having the flavor of the first and the penetrating odor of the second. The curd is heated slightly, and made into cakes four inches long, by two inches in breadth and thickness. The curding takes three months, the choeses being handled three time a week. Munater cheese is made by heating the milk and rennet to 85 deg. It coagulates in half an hour, is cut and stirred and heat increased to 110 deg. After reaching a certain consistency it is run into molds, hardening in half an hour. Without pressing, the cheeses are put in the callar, salted three days and cured for three months—the oil which exudes being rubbed into the rind by hand twice a week. The cure for Swiss cheese is treated as for Munster, only it is stirred finer, heated to 92 deg. in winter, & deg. in summer, cut fine, run into molds, and sweated and rubbed like Munster for four months. There were 5000 of these blocks, seven inches square by two inches thick, in the cellar when the Sun man aptered. The "clubhouse" cheese is purely an American production. A full-cream store cheese is run through a grinder, a little butter being added, and fed into three-ounce giass tumblers, salted down, a few drops of brandy poured on, parafin paper placed over, and a glass cover adjusted. Another industry, in connection with the cheese. factory, is the manufacture of sugar of milk from the whey, buttermilk and skim-milk—500 pounds daily.—This is used in making medicimal tablets, baking powders and lactated food for infants and invalids.

They are not fit for food, and the albumen alone is taken from them in making dessicated eggs. The patent egg is used largely by notels and bakeries.

CC. T. Abbott of Coronado, Cal., in California Cultivator:) Hens sometimes lay soft-shelled eggs. The cause generally is a scarcity of shell-forming material. This can easily be remedied by an increased supply of shell-forming material, such as lime, bones, etc. Occasionally, however, it arises from the fact that the hen is laying so rapidly that she has not time nor strength to shell her eggs. In such a case catch her and shut her up by herself for a few days, check her laying, and give her a rest, during which her ovary will regain strength. It is better to lose a few eggs than to lose the hen that lays them.

These soft eggs are hard to pass, and, in straining, the hen is very apt to break them in the egg passage or ovaduct, and death generally follows such a mishap. Sometimes hens that have layed a large number of eggs during the season, will, toward the end, lay soft eggs; if so, it is because the ovary is weakened and camot retain the eggs, but drops them large number of eggs during the season, will, toward the end, lay soft eggs; if so, it is because the ovary is weakened and camot retain the eggs, but drops them into the egg passage too quickly on each other, so that they have no time to shell during their passage through the ovaduct; it is in this passage that the eggs are shelled. The hen should be given a tonic and some bone dust, and she will soon be all right, if checked laying for a few days.

I believe that all stimulating food is bad for hens, if given too much. I am sure, from my own personal experience, that red pepper, if given for long, makes the oviary diseased, and also gives chickens liver complaints.

Overuse of all stimulants will in time result in disease of the egg organs, and will be the cause of many shelless eggs. Hens fed on stimulating food will lay more eggs for a time, but they soon become exhausted and diseased and eggs layed by bens forced to lay by too much stimulating food, are never strong, and frequently produce weakly chicks.

A Trial of Wheat in Feeding Pigs.

A Trial of Wheat in Feeding Pigs.

During the past year, repeated inquiries were made concerning the value of wheat in feeding for flesh, and several statements of results have appeared in agricultural papers. The Oregon experiments with four pigs, Poland-China and Berkshire crosses, from 215 to 240 pounds each. Lot 1 received chopped cats or wheat, and lot 2 had a mixture of chopped cats, wheat and shorts, to which bran was added at one period. The trial fasted from September 1 to December 22.

The food of each for remained practically the same throughout the trial, and was soaked for a time before feeding. The weights of lot 1 were 253 and 263½ pounds; of lot 2, 187½ and 223½ pounds. It required an average of 5.02 pounds of grain to make one pound of gain in lot 1, and 6.12 pounds in lot 2. Lot 1 consumed 2447½ pounds in for 2. Lot 1 consumed 2447½ pounds of grain, at a cost of $19.41, or 3.9 cents for each pound of gain in live weight. Wheat was valued at 45 cents per bushel, the price paid at threshing. Oats were reckoned at 36 cents. Lot 2 consumed 2325 pounds of grain, costing $19.41, the same as the other lot, or 8.66 cents per pound of live weight. The bran was figured at 75 cents per 100 pounds, and shorts at 90 cents. During the first period, the gain was less in lot 1 thar in, lot 2, which was not the case afterward. The pigs did not like the builts of the chopped oats, and in the second period chopped wheat was given instead, with much better results—the gain being one pound for every thirteen and a half pounds of the wheat fed. The lean meat

Swine Breeding

Swine Breeding.

(Pacific Rural Press.) We have received a short note from R. C. Kells, the well-known orchardist of Sutter county, asking if there is a Poland-China breeders' association in this State and suggesting that more prominence should be given to the swine interest of California. Mr. Kells is right. The swine interest of California is very important, and its present value would not be a tithe of its value if swine men would earnestly bestir themselves. There is no association of breeders of Poland-Chinas in this State, nor of the Berkshires, nor of any other breed of swine. Not only is there this lack, but our breeders do not take interest enough in this matter to properly connect themselves with the national associations in these interests. A few years ago there were several memberships by Californions in these bestir themselves, organize locally and do something systematically for the advancement of the local swine interest, the local product could be many times increased, and still better values obtained. We need to develop packing interests and shut off the trainloads of Mississippi Valley pork products, which are profitably marketed here. We cannot do this by floating land schemes under packing signs. The pork producers must proceed intelligently and resolutely in their own interest, and we have no doubt capital will be available. It is a shame that California, with the best conditions in the world for producinging sweet, healthy pork, should be payinging hundreds of thousands of dollars annually for Eastern pork products. More than that, we should be exporting these articles. But little can be done until the pork producers organize and advance in their own interest. Mr. Kells knows what work has done lots of it himself. Perhaps if he takes off his coat again and rustles in this new field he can draw others to him, and the California pork interest will do something for itself. The Rural Prees has repeatedly urged this, and stands ready to work for it with Mr. Kells and all others who will rally to the effort. Let us hear from all who will take hold.

The passengers in the carntage were thrown out, but only two of them were chured. Miss Roberts suffered the fracture of a collarbone, and the little boywas hurt in the knee. The injured were taken to their home in the Masters cottage and Dr. Macomber called to attend them. Considering the place and all, it seems providential that the results of therunaway were not far more serious.

AN ORGAN RECITAL. The audience at the organ recital in the Universalist Church Thursday evening was of a fair size considering the counter attractions. The programme as previously arranged was carried out, except as to the changes necessitated by the absence of Miss Holmes and Mr. Martens. It began with Estiste's well-known offertoire in D minor, played on the organ by Dr. Austin, which brought out the beautiful tones of the new instrument to advantage and proved the organist's command over it. A COLONIAL PARTY.

The colonial party and reception at the First Congregational Church this evening was very much of a success. It began with an excellent supper. Three tables were spread, presided over by Goorge and Martha Washington, personated by Mr. and Mrs. George H. Frost; President Adams and wife (Mr. and Mrs. Ben W. Hahn) and the poet Longfellow and wife (Frof. and Mrs. A. L. Hamilton.) The historical and fiterary characters were cled in appropriate costume, and did honor to their subjects. Patrons of the poet's table each were given cards bearing quotations from Longfellow's poems. The exercistics were interesting, the supper delicious, the people merry. It was an unique entertainment, and heartily enjoyed by the large number present.

HIGHLANDS, Feb. 22, 1895.—(Special Correspondence.) Oranges are moving rapidly. At the present rate of shipments the bulk of the navels will be off by the 15th of March. The crop is the inest ever grown here, a large per cent. going into fancy grades and desirable sizes. The grown here, a large per cent. going into fancy grades and desirable sizes. The fruit is unusually heavy, single packed boxes weighing as much as 76 pounds net; (65 is the established weight,) while the color is exceptionally fine. The various associations in the San Bernardino County Fruit Exchange are fairly tumbling over each other in their efforts to fill their orders promptly. Wednesday the association packed several boxes on order of the Southern California Railway Company, for shipment to various points. Among them two to Secretary of War Daniel Lamont. The same evening they delivered to Wells, Fargo & Co. eight, 1-boxes, which that company paid spot cash for, and will distribute to various points in America and Europe, as an advertisement of California oranges. Among the recipients of this fruit will be William E. Gladstone and Grover Cleveland.

Two weeks ago the New York Times said, editorially, that "California orange-growers would receive this year $400 an acre for their oranges." To one unacquainted with the possibilities of an orange-grower would receive this year $400 an acre for their oranges. To one unacquainted with the possibilities of an orange-growers would receive this year $400 an acre for their oranges. To one unacquainted with the possibilities of an orange-grower this sounds like hyperbole; but when the shipping season is over there will be many verified statements that will exceed this figure by one-half. Among the best returns yet at hand is that of D. R. Seeley, whose ranch is less than one hundred rods from the Highlands Depot. He has 213 seedling trees, set twenty feet apart, a trifie less than two acres, that have been in orchard eight years. He sold the crop early in the season to Allen Bros. of Los Angeles for 1c per pound, equal to about 66c a box net. The fruit has been delivered, and Mr. Seeley received $66.78. The same fruit, if sold in the local market today, would bring over $1000.

In view of the fact that no substantial returns are expected from a seedling orchard before ten years of age, this showing, which is absolutely correct, is considered remarkable.

In their second similar they added two more runs, and then they rested up until toward the last of the game, when they turned loose and everlastingly walloped the city fellows, batting the ball all over the damond, and chasing each other over the bases like a band of sheep. At the end of the ninth inning they had heaped up a total of thirbeen runs. To do their best the local team could only get a credit of nine, hence the game ended in favor of the Westminsters by the decided score of 13 to 9.

THE MONDAY CLUB.

The Monday Club held a very interesting meeting Wednesday evening of this week in the office of J. G. Scarborough. Prof. Norrish led off, after the business meeting, with "Current Events," and this was followed by S. H. Finley with an able and interesting paper on the financial policy of the United States. In substance, Mr. Einley said:

able and interesting paper on the financial policy of the United States. In substance, Mr. Finley said:

"When we speak of our financial system, we open up a subject broad and deep, and one that few comprehend. It is not built upon any uniform plan, but is the result rather of portions of various systems. It is ignorance of what money is for that makes it difficult to correct existing evils. What is money? It is nothing more than a medium of exchange—an article to facilitate the exchange of one commodity for another. It must necessarily possess intrinmedium of exchange—an article to facilitate the exchange of one commodity for another. It must necessarily possess intrinsic value in itself, or be capable of being turned into something of value. The position is taken by some that money makes prosperity, and that the government has power to make money from nothing. Both ideas are preposterous and untenable. The business of the world does not depend upon the volume of currency. The fact is that only 1½ per cent. of the actual business transactions are carried on by use of coin money. Gold and silver is locked up in the banks and business transacted by means of checks. The government cannot make a piece of paper pass for as much as a piece of gold unless it stands ready to pay out gold for it when presented. Not can it dictate the comparative value of gold and silver then transacted by means of checks. The government cannot make a piece of paper pass for as much as a piece of gold unless it stands ready to pay out gold for it when presented. Noc can it dictate the comparative value of gold and silver any more than that of any other commodity. I cannot conceive of two standards of value. Those that cry for a double standard do not know what they are asking for. They are asking for a gold price and a silver price for all articles. What they really want is a single bi-metallic standard, which is a value based on an alloy of gold and silver mixed in some proportions to be agreed upon by the world, for it is impossible for any one nation to dictate the financial policy of the world. The United States is powerful, but it cannot fix the price of silver as compared with gold. If the world wants gold as the standard we must adopt the same or shut ourselves out from trade with the world. The only safe ground on which we can stand now, in view of the policy of other nations, is that of the single gold standard, and I admire the determination of the administrations, present and past, in insisting on paying our obligations in the best money—the money of the world—gold.

"Supply and demand alone regulates the ratio of the value of the two metals. The only way to create a uniform demand for silver and gold is for the leading hations to adopt an equitable ratio and coin it all. England and Germany will not do that as long as other nations are satisfied with silver and gold is for the leading hations to adopt an equitable ratio and coin it all. The most important lawsuit that Pomona has had for some time will be the trial of the case of Dr. F. de Witt Crank against John Weber in the Justice Court next Monday. The question of medical ethics will figure largely in the suit, and subpoenas are to be served upon over half the medical fraternity of Pomona, who will be called upon to testify as to the respective rights of a patient and a physician when the latter is dismissed from a case at a critical period. The plaintiff alleges that he was not given a fair trial in a recent alarming illness in the home of the defendant, and the latter sets up a defense of malpractice.

SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY.

THE CITIZENS' UNION PLANS ITS FIRST CAMPAIGN.

Highlands Oranges Shipped to States men—Annual Report of the Red-lands Chamber of Commerce-Personals.

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 22.—(Special Correspondence.) The Chizons' Union held a largely-attended meeting in Unity Hell lest night, to arrange plans for the campaign. Ward conventions will be held in the Third and Fifth wards, the two which elect Trustees, next Wednezday night, Feb. 26. The Third Ward convention will be held at the Metcalfe school-house, and the Fifth Ward at the Mt. Vernon schoolhouse. On Thursday night, February 27, a mass convention will be held to nominate a full city ticket. The parties suggested for Trustees are Wilford Boren, Dr. S. G. Huff and Thomas Carter in the Third Ward. In the Fifth Ward the prominent candidates named are J. J. in the Third Ward. In the Fifth Ward the prominent candidates named are J. J.
Whitney, the incumbent; Dexter Field and
P. B. Hockaday. On the general city ticket
City Marchal Ralphs and Recorder Peck will undoubtedly be renominated. The question of publicity is troubling the union, and the Executive Committee will hold a session tonight to consider the question of publishing a campaign paper, and will report at a general meeting of the union, to beheld Saturday night. The union does not appear to be alarmed at the large number of signatures secured by the Ottzens' Mercantile Campaign Club.
They say that on election day many of those signers will vote the union ticket.

ORANGES FOR STATESMEN.

ORANGES FOR STATESMEN.
On Thursday night a box of Highlands oranges will leave this station consigned to England's late premier, W. E. Gladstone; also one for President Cleveland. The fruit was furnished by the Highlands Fruit Exchange, and is some of the finest that has left California. It is shipped by order of J. J. Valentine, president of Wells, Fargo & Co. Mr. Pridham, the company's agent at Los Angeles, was in the city last evening and, after inspecting the fruit, pronounced it superb. Boxes of fine fruit were also sent to prominent railroad and transpartation men in various parts of the country. ORANGES FOR STATESMEN.

REDLANDS.

REDLANDS, Feb. 21.—(Special Correspondence.) At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors on Wednesday afternoon, the annual report of F. P. Meserve as treasurer was accepted. Mr. Meserve thereupon tendered his resignation as treasurer and director, which was accepted and John W. Wilson was elected to fill the vacancy.

The resignation of A. B. Ruggles as president of the Chamber of Commerce was also tendered, but not accepted.

That of Director J. Lee Burton was ac-

The annual reports of A. B. Ruggles and duties as secretary, but his resignation was not accepted.

The annual reports of A. B. Ruggles and E. G. Judson were read and accepted.

The president's report was a well-worded document. Among its contents were the following comments: "The progress of Redlands along the building and improvement line has been marked. The general financial depression has not been felt so keenly in Redlands as in most other towns. Its chief industry is orange-growing. This will be a permanent business, sure to yield large returns to those engaged in it. A place where comfort, attractiveness, profit and healthfulness are so happily blended cannot but be appreciated and sought after by those seeking a delightful home.

Secretary Judson gave a detailed report of the work of the chamber, from which the following extracts were made:

"Shortly after the Chamber of Commerce was incorporated, January 16, 1894, there was a membership of 155. During the year three died, seven moved away, and forty caused their names to be taken from the list, leaving a membership at the present time of 105. There have been gistributed by the chamber 9000 advertising card, 3000 folders, about 6000 copies of the Illustrated Leader, and 5000 illustrated pamblets. Letters of inquiry have been answered to the number of about 300.

The City Trustees were in regular session Wednesday night.

A. K. Smilev appeared before the board representing the trustees of the Public Library, and again reminded the City Trustees of their agreement to pay the lighting and heating bills of the library. The amount of the bills already due was $80.

After the trustees had discussed the matter, Mr. Smiley expressed his willingness to be personally responsible for half of the amount, if the city would pay the balance. The offer was promptly accepted.

It is understood that the city will hereafter pay for the heating and lighting of this institution.

It being expected that water rates would be adopted at this meeting, a large number of visitors were present. The matter was brought up for discussion, but no further action was taken than that already taken at several previous meetings.

A communication from the Redlands, further action was taken than that already taken at several previous meetings.

A communication from the Redlands, Lugonia and Crafton Domestic Water Company was read, which commenced with a review of the company's financial condition, and closed with a protest against the fixing or establishing by the trustees of rates which will not admit of a net income yielding a fair rate of interest on the value of the property.

Stop that Cough!

It may lead to serious consequences. Cough remedies will not do it, because it means more than a simple cold. Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites will do it, and at the same time will build up and fortify the system against further attacks.

We are putting up a 50-cent size for just these local difficulties. For ordinary Coughs and Colds that quantity will doubtless cure. If it is deepseated it may require more.

If some grocers urge another baking powder upon you in place of the "Royal," it is because of the greater profit upon it. This of itself is evidence of the superiority of the "Royal." To give greater profit the other must be a lower cost powder, and to cost less it must be made with cheaper and inferior materials, and thus, though selling for the same, give less value to the consumer. .

FOR THE UNWARY,

GREEN-GOODS DOCUMENT IN CIRCULATION.

Which Appeals to the Avarice of People Desiring to Make Quickly at the Expense of Their Honesty.

"There is nothing new under the sun, and even the men who live by their wits and their name is legion, are compelled to dress up the schemes practiced a decade ago in new guise, in order to sed nimble dollar from the pockets of the gul-lible public. But, as Barnum sagely re-marked, the public like to be gulled, and so the merry game of fraud goes on.

A "green-goods" circular is being circulated in Southern California, which, in days gone by proved to be a veritable bo-nanza in the East to the schemers who nanza in the East to the schemers who used it as a bait to the unwary. Californit has not been worked very extensively by the "green-goods" fakir, but in thus beginning operations he has shown all the ingenuity of his class. The peculiarity of the swinding device is that a $1 bill accompanies each circular, which is in reality a genuine United States Treasury note, and the person selected to be victimized at a later date has no difficulty in passing it at the bank.

The circular, like most documents of its kind, appeals to the avarice of the ordinary individual and says:

"Inclosed find a specimen of my goods; & needs no argument in its favor; it speaks for itself. It is a duplicate of a genuine bill now in circulation somewhere, and cannot be pronounced otherwise than genuine until both bills bearing the same numbers reach the Treasury in Washington in course of time. I have a method of ageing, for giving them an old and worn appearance, which is very simple, and which I will explain to you in person.

"I wish to say to you now, so that there will be no misunderstanding when we meet, that the largest amount of goods that I well on the first deal is $50,000, which will cost used it as a bait to the unwary. Califorthat the largest amount of goods that I sell on the first deal is $50,000, which will cost you $2500, and this is with the understand-you $2500, and this is with the understanding that you pay me 25 per cent. on all future deals."

Reference is then made to the necessary arrangements for meeting. The address given is No. 1274 Van Buren street, Cricago, but evidently it is not desired that a would-be purchaser should pop in unawares, for it is especially directed that while en route to his own undoing, the victim shall send a dispatch advising him of arrival, name to be registered and at what hotel.

The circular concludes with a caution that the "sucker" from California shall speak to no one on the street or in the hotel until he recognizes the password, "Rancher, 1-2-7," written in green ink, with the full name, town, county and State underneath

The grass must be growing very short ing done up.

The circular referred to was received by a gentleman in one of the suburban towns, but during the last two months "green-goods" circulars have been received in other places, and most probably from the same parties.

of minor importance were considered. It was decided to recommend to the City Council that the City Clerk be instructed to advertise for bids for the purchase of a franchise for a street railway on West First street, from Bonnie Brae street to the west city limits.

This recommendation is in accordance with the petition of O. A. Ivers and others, presented to the City Council at its last meeting. Under the law, such a franchise cannot be granted directly, but must be officially advertised for sale, and let to the highest and best bidder.

The recommendation of the board, however, is not that the franchise be advertised, as asked in the petition, which prays that the motive power may be either horses or electricity. Instead, it is recommended that the word "horses" be stricken out, or that the franchise be advertised in such form as not to provide that horses may be used for motive power.
